A GUIDE TO THE BROOKLYN COLLEGE GRADUATE PROGRAM REVIEW, 2012-13
School-Based Reports Due May 1, 2013
College Implementation Plan Due February 1, 2014

This guide is intended to assist Brooklyn College schools and departments in reviewing their graduate programs and identifying a strategic action plan for creating and maintaining strong, high quality programs over the next five years. It is a compilation of baseline data about existing graduate programs with accompanying guide questions arranged by academic departments within each of the five schools and organized in the following categories:

Part 1: Overview and Structural Issues
Part 2: Graduate Admissions Process
Part 3: Graduate Program Enrollments
Part 4: Graduate Program Quality
Part 5: Graduate Program Assessment of Student Learning

The materials in this guide were compiled by a committee consisting of Michael Anderson (Director of Academic Assessment), Michael R. Ayers (Director of Institutional Research and Planning), James Eaton (Director of Academic Administration), Simon Harley (Director of Graduate Admissions), Lea Honigwachs (Special Assistant to the Provost), and Colette Wagner (Assistant Provost for Planning and Special Projects, Chair). Questions about materials presented in the guide should be directed to Colette Wagner, Assistant Provost.

Academic departments are asked to work with their school deans to compile and submit their school’s report by May 1, 2013. An outline for submission of the school-based reports will be published by October 1st. Thank you in advance for your participation in this extremely important review process.

Sincerely,
William A. Tramontano
Provost and Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs
