Note: Beginning with fall 2009, this indicator is based on data from the CUNYfirst faculty workload data collection. FTEs are apportioned for team-taught and cross-listed classes, but cannot be apportioned for a very small number of classes that are both team-taught and also cross-listed/combined, due to limitations in the available data. This indicator is calculated by dividing the total number of student FTEs in undergraduate courses taught by full-time faculty members by the total FTEs in all undergraduate courses. Instruction in winter session sections is included only for full-time faculty whose teaching is part of their contractual workload (instruction is added to both the numerator and the denominator). Other winter session sections are excluded. Full-time faculty members are defined as those of professorial rank, instructors and lecturers. Instruction is credited to the faculty member's appointment college. College Now sections are excluded.

The college at which the student took the summer re-test is credited with the gain. The indicator reflects the percentage of students whose last test taken during summer was higher than their initial writing test score. Percentages for summer 2011 reflect changes from previous years in test forms used, score ranges, and populations retaking the writing essay. Percentages for summer 2011 reflect the use of the CAT-W test for retesting whereas summer 2010 reflects use of the COMPASS Writing test for retesting. CAT-W test scores ranged from 0 to 96 , whereas COMPASS Writing test scores ranged from 0 to 12. The population retesting in summer 2011 was smaller than those who retested in summer 2010. Therefore rates for summer 2011 are not comparable to previous years.

Note: This indicator is based on students who had earned between 25 and 35 credits by the start of the fall term and who were not initially proficient in one or more subject areas. Through fall 2010, basic skills proficiency is based on data available in the SKAT database and reflects status at the beginning of the term. Students whose proficiency status is unknown because one or more test/exemption records is missing are excluded from the base. For fall 2011, students are considered fully proficient if he or she 1) is proficient in reading and writing and 2) passed the math test prior to the term or passed the last-insequence math course in spring 2011 (grade C or better). For comprehensive colleges, the rates include students who entered at the associate level but were enrolled at the baccalaureate level at the time they were identified as having earned $25-35$ credits.

Note: Beginning with fall 2009, this indicator is based on data from the CUNYfirst faculty workload data collection. FTEs are apportioned for team-taught and cross-listed classes, but cannot be apportioned for a very small number of classes that are both team-taught and also cross-listed/combined, due to limitations in the available data. This indicator is calculated by dividing the total number of student FTEs in lower division courses taught by full-time faculty members by the total of all lower division student FTEs. Instruction in winter session sections is included only for full-time faculty whose teaching is part of their contractual workload (instruction is added to both the numerator and the denominator). Other winter session sections are excluded. Full-time faculty members are defined as those of professorial rank, instructors and lecturers. Instruction is credited to the faculty member's appointment college. College Now sections are excluded.

Students who withdrew from a College Now college credit course are excluded from the computation of this indicator. Last year's figures have been revised to reflect final data. For the current year, spring performance data are not yet available so current year success rates are based on summer and fall only. Final data for the current year will be provided in next year's report. Figures for all years have been revised for the College of Staten Island, the comprehensive subtotal and university total to exclude students in CSI's Discovery Institute.

Instruction in winter session sections is included only for full-time faculty whose teaching is part of their contractual workload (instruction is added to both the numerator and the denominator). Other winter session sections are excluded. Full-time faculty members are defined as those of professorial rank, instructors and lecturers Instruction is credited to the faculty member's appointment college except for those appointed to the Graduate Center, the School of Journalism and the Law School; their teaching is credited to the college where instruction took place. College Now sections, tutorial and office hours, and courses with less than 5 students are excluded.

Note: Beginning with fall 2009, this indicator is based on data from the CUNYfirst faculty workload data collection. This indicator is calculated by dividing the total number of contact hours in graduate (master's and Ph.D.) courses taught by full-time faculty members by the total contact hours in all graduate courses. Instruction in winter session sections is included only for full-time faculty whose teaching is part of their contractual workload (instruction is added to both the numerator and the denominator). Other winter session sections are excluded. Full-time faculty members are defined as those of professorial rank, instructors and lecturers. Instruction is credited to the faculty member's appointment college except for those appointed to the Graduate Center, the School of Journalism and the Law School; their teaching is credited to the college where instruction took place. Tutorial and office hours, and courses with less than 5 students are excluded.

Note: Beginning with fall 2009, this indicator is based on data from CUNYfirst Human Capital Management (HCM). Figures reflect the number of veteran fulltime professorial faculty (not eligible for contractual release time) in the term indicated. This indicator excludes those in non-teaching departments (counselors and librarians), those in substitute titles and those on leave (all types, not just unpaid). This is the denominator for the indicator "Mean teaching hours of veteran full-time faculty".

Note: This indicator is based on students who had earned between 25 and 35 credits by the start of the fall term and who were not initially proficient in reading. Basic skills proficiency is based on data available in the SKAT database and reflects status at the beginning of the term. Students whose proficiency status is unknown because one or more test/exemption records is missing are excluded from the base. For comprehensive colleges, the rates include students who entered at the associate level but were enrolled at the baccalaureate level at the time they were identified as having earned $25-35$ credits.

University Target: 3.2 Colleges will improve basic skills and ESL outcomes.

Percentage of associate degree students not proficient in writing upon initial testing who have met basic skills proficiency in writing by the 30th credit

Note: This indicator is based on students who had earned between 25 and 35 credits by the start of the fall term and who were not initially proficient in writing. Basic skills proficiency is based on data available in the SKAT database and reflects status at the beginning of the term. Students whose proficiency status is unknown because one or more test/exemption records is missing are excluded from the base. For comprehensive colleges, the rates include students who entered at the associate level but were enrolled at the baccalaureate level at the time they were identified as having earned $25-35$ credits.

Note: This indicator is based on admitted first-time freshmen who did not meet the basic skills requirement in writing with the initial attempt of the essay test and who re-tested during the summer. The college at which the student took the summer re-test is credited with the gain. The indicator reflects the average difference in students' initial score on the basic skills essay test and the last essay test taken prior to the fall term of entry. Average increases for summer 2011 reflect changes from previous years in test forms used, score ranges, and populations retaking the writing essay. Percentages for summer 2011 reflect the use of the CAT-W test for retesting whereas summer 2010 reflects use of the COMPASS Writing test for retesting. CAT-W test scores ranged from 0 to 96 , whereas COMPASS Writing test scores ranged from 0 to 12 . The population retesting in summer 2011 was smaller than those who retested in summer 2010. Therefore average increases in test scores for summer 2011 are not comparable to previous years.

Note: This indicator is calculated as research dollars divided by total awards for a given fiscal year. FY 2011 figures have been revised from last year's PMP report to reflect final data and FY2012 figures are preliminary.

[^0]:    Note: Values are computed as the number of student FTEs in sections designated as either partially or fully online divided by the total number of student FTEs. Both undergraduate and graduate courses are included. Sections with the instructional component either partially or totally online are determined by the designation in the colleges' student information system and submitted to OIRA as part of the fall Show-Reg/Performance data collection.

[^1]:    Note: Beginning with fall 2009, this indicator is based on data from the CUNYfirst faculty workload data collection. FTEs are apportioned for team-taught and cross-listed classes, but cannot be apportioned for a very small number of classes that are both team-taught and also cross-listed/combined, due to limitations in the available data. This indicator is calculated by dividing the total number of student FTEs taught by full-time faculty members (undergraduate and graduate) by the total of all student FTEs. Instruction in winter session sections is included only for full-time faculty whose teaching is part of their contractual workload (instruction is added to both the numerator and the denominator). Other winter session sections are excluded. Full-time faculty members are defined as those of professorial rank, instructors and lecturers. Instruction is credited to the faculty member's appointment college except for those appointed to the Graduate Center, the School of Journalism and the Law School; their teaching is credited to the college where instruction took place. College Now sections are excluded.

[^2]:    Note: Beginning with fall 2009, this indicator is based on data from the faculty workload collection from CUNYfirst and HR data from CUNYfirst. Eligibility for contractual release time is determined by the date of first appointment to the professorial title series at the college and tenure status. This indicator reflects the fall (and winter) contractual teaching hours of veteran full-time professorial faculty (not eligible for contractual release time) as reported by colleges in the CUNYfirst system. Teaching hours reflect the sum of instructional workload hours (non-overload) of veteran full-time professorial faculty divided by the number of veteran full-time professorial faculty. The computation of this indicator excludes those in non-teaching departments (counselors and librarians), those in substitute titles and those on leave (all types, not just unpaid). Teaching hours are credited to the faculty member's appointment college.
    *Based on fewer than 25 faculty members.

[^3]:    Note: Beginning with fall 2009, this indicator is based on data from the faculty workload collection from CUNYfirst and HR data from CUNYfirst. Eligibility for contractual release time is determined by the date of first appointment to the professorial title series at the college and tenure status. This indicator reflects the fall (and winter) contractual teaching hours of new full-time professorial faculty (eligible for contractual release time) as reported by colleges in the CUNYfirst system. Teaching reflect the sum of the total instructional workload hours (non-overload) of full-time professorial faculty eligible for contractual release time divided by the number of full-time professorial faculty eligible for contractual release time. The computation of this indicator excludes those in non-teaching departments (counselors and librarians), those in substitute titles and those on leave (all types, not just unpaid). Teaching hours are credited to the faculty member's appointment college.
    *Based on fewer than 25 faculty members.

[^4]:    Note: Students who are both SEEK and ESL (based on ESL course enrollment in the first term) are excluded from the base because they have two years to meet basic skills requirements. The PMP continues to report the one-year proficiency rate for SEEK students even though, beginning with the fall 2009 entering cohort, SEEK students have two years to gain proficiency in math. Rates for all years have been recalculated to exclude students who were no longer enrolled in the fall term after entry.
    *Based on fewer than 25 students.

[^5]:    Note: Based on students completing freshman composition in the fall of a given term. Students earning a C- (or lower) are not included in the numerator of

[^6]:    Note: Based on students completing a credit-bearing math course through pre-calculus in the fall of a given term. Students earning a C- (or lower) are not included in the numerator of the percentage calculation. Students are counted once for each course in a given semester.

[^7]:    Note: These indicators show the percentage of black, Hispanic and Native American freshmen who were still enrolled in the college of entry one year after entry as the retention rate for URM, and the percentage of Asian/Pacific Islander and white freshmen who were still enrolled in the college of entry one year after entry as the retention rate for non-URM. The gap is the difference between the two rates.
    *Based on fewer than 25 students.

[^8]:    Note: Based on a fall cohort of first-time freshmen and transfers still enrolled in the college of entry the following spring. Colleges are credited for students

[^9]:    Note: Students are counted as retained in the college of entry in the cohort year if they are still enrolled in the college of entry (or earned the degree pursued from the college of entry) two years later. Students who earned a degree lower than that pursued and who are not still enrolled are not counted as retained.
    *Based on fewer than 25 students.

[^10]:    Note: Students are counted as graduates from the college of entry in the cohort year if they earn the degree pursued (or higher) within four years of transfer entry, from the college of transfer entry. Graduation rates reflect all degrees conferred through August 31 of the last year of the tracking period. Students who earn more than one degree within the tracking period are counted only once.

[^11]:    Note: Graduation rates reflect all degrees conferred through August 31 of the last year of the tracking period. This is a system rate reflecting graduation from any CUNY college, which may not necessarily be the same college at which the student first entered the master's program.

[^12]:    Note: Students are counted as graduates from the college of entry in the cohort year if they earn the degree pursued (or higher) within six years from the college of entry. Graduation rates reflect all degrees conferred through August 31 of the last year of the tracking period. For students who earn more than one CUNY degree, the highest degree earned within six years is counted.

[^17]:    Note: Beginning with AY10, NASBA publishes rates only for first-time test-takers; comparable data for earlier years are not available. The CPA exam contains four sections. Pass rates are computed as the number of testing events (sections) passed, divided by the total testing events. Pass rates for AY10 reflect $\mathrm{N}=>20$.

[^18]:    Note: This indicator is based on responses to the Student Experience Survey administered every two years by the Office of Institutional Research and Assessment. This measure reflects responses to three items about satisfaction with academic advising, library services, and learning labs. For each item, students were asked to report their satisfaction level (1=very dissatisfied, 2=dissatisfied, 3=satisfied, 4=very satisfied). Scores were calculated for each student by combining items with valid (non-missing) responses (a response of "no opinion" was considered missing), and then college averages were computed with confidence intervals. All items in this measure are weighted equally. For 2012, numbers in parenthesis represent the $95 \%$ confidence interval for the estimated mean.

[^20]:    Note: This indicator is based on responses to the Student Experience Survey administered every two years by the Office of Institutional Research and Assessment. This measure reflects responses to four items about access to computer technology, including: campus computing in general, computer lab hours, availability of computer labs on campus, and availability of computers on campus. For each item, students were asked to report their satisfaction level ( $1=$ very dissatisfied, $2=$ dissatisfied, $3=$ satisfied, $4=$ very satisfied). Scores for each student were calculated by combining items with valid (non-missing) responses (a response of "no opinion" was considered missing), and then college averages were computed with confidence intervals. All items in this measure are weighted equally. For 2012, numbers in parenthesis represent the $95 \%$ confidence interval for the estimated mean.

[^23]:    Note: FY2010 "Percent of Total" has been revised since the 2010-11 PMP to correct community college vacation accruals. Data for FY 2012 will be available in next year's report. Dollar amounts reflect expenditures for general administration, general institutional services, and maintenance and operations (everything except instructional activities)

[^24]:    Note: FY 2011 figures have been revised from last year's PMP report to reflect final data.

[^25]:    Note: This indicator is based on responses to the Student Experience Survey administered every two years by the Office of Institutional Research and Assessment. This measure is based on responses to four items about satisfaction with administrative services, including: registration procedures, testing office, financial aid services, and billing and payment procedures. For each item, students were asked to report their satisfaction level (1=very dissatisfied, $2=$ dissatisfied, $3=$ satisfied, $4=$ very satisfied). Scores for each student were calculated by combining items with valid (non-missing) responses (a response of "no opinion" was considered missing), and then college averages were computed with confidence intervals. [^26]:    Note: Values are computed as the number of student FTEs in sections designated as either partially or fully online divided by the total number of student FTEs. Both undergraduate and graduate courses are included. Sections with the instructional component either partially or totally online are determined by the designation on the colleges' student information system and submitted to OIRA as part of the fall Show-Reg/Performance data collection. Partially online courses include those identified as "hybrid - between $20 \%$ and $80 \%$ of classwork is online", "partially online - some of the classwork is online" and "online more than $80 \%$ of the classwork is online".

[^27]:    Note: Beginning with fall 2009, this indicator is based on data from the CUNYfirst faculty workload data collection. FTEs are apportioned for team-taught and cross-listed classes, but cannot be apportioned for a very small number of classes that are both team-taught and also cross-listed/combined, due to limitations in the available data. This indicator is calculated by dividing the total number of student FTEs in graduate courses taught by full-time faculty members by the total FTEs in all graduate courses. Instruction in winter session sections is included only for full-time faculty whose teaching is part of their contractual workload (instruction is added to both the numerator and the denominator). Other winter session sections are excluded. Full-time faculty members are defined as those of professorial rank, instructors and lecturers. Instruction is credited to the faculty member's appointment college except for those appointed to the Graduate Center, the School of Journalism and the Law School; their teaching is credited to the college where instruction took place.

[^29]:    Note: This indicator is calculated by summing the student FTEs in undergraduate sections and dividing by the sum of faculty FTEs in undergraduate sections. FTEs are apportioned for team-taught and cross-listed classes, but cannot be correctly apportioned for a very small number of classes that are both team-taught and also crosslisted/combined, due to limitations in the available data. Beginning with fall 2009, this indicator is based on data from the faculty workload collection from CUNYfirst. Prior to 2009, student and faculty FTEs were computed from data from the legacy Staff and Teaching Load collection.

[^30]:    Note: This indicator reflects data in the HR employee census file and excludes graduate assistants, counselors and librarians, full-time faculty on unpaid leave and individuals on the Executive Compensation Plan even if they teach undergraduate or graduate courses at the college. Full-time instructors and lecturers are counted here. City includes Sophie Davis.

[^31]:    Note: Number of teaching appointment hours of adjuncts divided by 13.5. City includes Sophie Davis.

[^32]:    Note: Includes individuals on the executive compensation plan and personnel in full-time professional titles. City includes Sophie Davis.

[^33]:    Note: This indicator is based on admitted first-time freshmen who did not meet the basic skills requirement in pre-algebra with the initial attempt of the COMPASS Math 1 test and who re-tested during the summer. The college at which the student took the summer re-test is credited with the gain. The indicator reflects the average difference in students' initial score on the COMPASS Math 1 test and the last COMPASS Math 1 test taken prior to the fall term of entry.
    *Based on fewer than 25 students.

[^34]:    Note: Based on students completing freshman composition and/or a credit-bearing math course through pre-calculus in the fall of a given term. Students earning a C- (or lower) are not included in the numerator of the percentage calculation. Students are counted once for each course in a given semester.

[^35]:    Note: Students are counted as graduates from the college of entry in the cohort year if they earn the degree pursued (or higher) within six years from any CUNY college. Graduation rates reflect all degrees conferred through August 31 of the last year of the tracking period. For students who earn more than one CUNY degree, the highest degree earned within six years is counted.

[^36]:    Note: Figures are based on a match to data from the National Student Clearinghouse student tracker database.
