All are welcome to join us! Learn about the work of your colleagues. Throughout the year we will be bringing together faculty to celebrate their creative and scholarly pursuits. These “afternoon tea” symposia are intended for a broad audience to showcase the breadth of academic work being done by faculty at Brooklyn College. Each symposium will feature presenters from multiple disciplines.

Tea, coffee and something sweet will be served! Please RSVP online or at apfa@brooklyn.cuny.edu.

Wednesday, November 20, 2019
3:40–5 p.m. – State Lounge, Student Center, 5th Floor

- Lynda Day, Africana Studies  Nana Yaa Asantewa: Leader of the Last Anglo-Asante War
- Malka Simon, Art  Architectural Landscapes Across NYC’s “Outer Boroughs”
- Benjamin Carp, History  The Night Broadway Burned: The New York City Fire of 1776
- Jon Nissenbaum, Linguistics Program and English  Sine Wave Speech and Pitch Perception: Developing a Novel Technique for Investigating Linguistic Tone
- Chia-ju Chang, Modern Languages and Literatures  Life Outside the Dome: The Possibility of Aerophilia in the Anthropocene
- Namita Manohar, Sociology  Living Religion, Embodying “Interfaith”: Catholic Interfaith Marriages in Mumbai, India

Wednesday, February 19, 2020
3:40–5 p.m. – Maroon Room, Student Center, 6th Floor

- Daniel Tinkelman, Accounting  Incorporating Graphics in Financial Statements
- Beth Ferholt, Early Childhood Education/Art Education  The Aesthetics of Play: A Cross-Cultural Study of Playworlds in Japan and Sweden
- Alexandra Juhasz, Film  Fake News Poetry as Radical Digital Media Literacy
- Steven Remy, History  The First World War: Rethinking ‘Small Wars’ and the ‘Great War’
- Brett Branco, Science and Resilience Institute at Jamaica Bay  Urban Water Quality: Science and Management
- Laura Tesman, Theater  THE IOADA: Unearthing the Odyssey of Io

Wednesday, March 11, 2020
3:40–5 p.m. – State Lounge, Student Center, 5th Floor

- Meral Kaya, Childhood, Bilingual and Special Education  Diversity and Global Awareness through Multicultural Children’s Books in Teacher Education
- Sara Reguer, Judaic Studies  The Jewish Population of Italy, 2020
- Zhongqi (Joshua) Cheng, Earth and Environmental Sciences  Soils in the City: Path to Urban Sustainability
- Mariana Regalado, Library  Research Habits of CUNY Students
- Andrew Arlig, Philosophy  Ascent to God and the ‘Annihilation’ of the Self According to Some Medieval Islamic Thinkers
- Carolina Bank Muñoz, Sociology  Anti-Black Racism in Chile

Sponsored by the Office of the Associate Provost for Faculty and Administration.
Visit our website at brooklyn.cuny.edu/apfa to learn about other upcoming workshops and events!