Legal Professions Networking Night, March 17th 6pm-8:30pm

On Thursday, March 17th, the Office of Undergraduate Studies and the Magner Center will be hosting the first Brooklyn College Legal Professions Networking Night for current students and recent graduates who have an interest in working in law-related areas. This event gives students the opportunity to speak with successful and experienced alumni who work in law. Students must register for the event through the WebPortal. The networking event will be held in the Georgian Room of Boylan Hall.

Job Offering- Fostering Change for Children

Fostering Change for Children is recruiting Children's Corps employees to begin in June 2011. The New York-based organization is seeking motivated and passionate individuals who want to make a difference in the lives of children and families. Children's Corps is a new and exciting program that will help improve the circumstances of children and families served by the New York City child welfare system.

Children's Corps, inspired by Teach for America, selects recent graduates and provides them with intensive training and support to become effective and sensitive caseworkers. Members must commit to two years of work with foster care agencies, with many opportunities for personal and professional growth. Children's Corp is looking for people who are organized, open to working with diverse populations, good team players, passionate and committed to making a difference, confident, and fun. Candidates must receive Bachelors degree by June 2011.

For more information, or to apply visit Children's Corps website.

Parent Advocates in the Child Welfare System Event, March 16th 9am-12pm

Parent Advocate Initiative was created to promote employment and support of Parents Advocates in foster care agencies. This forum will revolve around a discussion on the Parent Advocate Initiative's Year 2 Evaluation Report. Some panelist include:
Commissioner John Mattingly, New York City Administration for Children's Services; Commissioner Gladys Carrión, New York State Office of Children and Family Services; Jim Purcell, Council of Family and Child Caring Agencies, and many more. Click here for the complete list of panelist and more information.

This forum is presented by the Center for New York City Affairs and the Parent Advocate Initiative.
