On Friday, November 4, 2011, the Children's Studies Center for Research, Policy, and Public Service held a National Consultation event at the Association of the Bar in Manhattan titled, "Social Justice for Children: To End Child Abuse and Violence Against Children."

The all day conference featured speakers and panelists in the fields of the neuroscience and epigenetic research, the social sciences, public health, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the courts and the judiciary, the U. S. Department of Justice the Office of the Attorney General, public and non-for-profit child protection and advocacy agencies, key members of the New York State legislative branch and New York City government, and more.

For more information on the event and the speakers visit the consultation website. We are currently adding presentations, photographs, and other information to the website--please check back regularly for updates.

Nino's Journey to Cyprus

One of our Children and Youth Studies students, Nino Pochkhidze, is currently on a Study Abroad in Cyprus. She is documenting her experience on her blog, "Nino's Journey to Cyprus." Check out her website to read about her experience and find out where she is travelling.

Fourteenth Charles R. Lawrence II Memorial Lecture

Professor Gertrud Lenzer was the chairperson and organizer for the Fourteenth Charles R. Lawrence II Memorial Lecture, held on Monday, October 3 in the Woody Tanger Auditorium. The event, "Confronting Precarious Work: Toward a New Social Contract," featured guest speaker Arne L. Kalleberg, a Kenan Distinguished Professor of Sociology at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

The event was featured in the Excelsior.

Children First Club Bake Sale

The Children First Club held a bake sale on Monday, October 24 at Brooklyn College to raise money for Les Petits Okapis International, an organization that helps children living on the street in the Congo, where war and poverty have torn communities apart.
