Updates to the Fall 2012 Schedule

We have made changes to the Fall 2012 Children and Youth Studies course schedule. Along with some room number changes, the Children and the Law course has been moved to Monday night!

Please see the attached pdf to view all changes.

Many of our courses have already filled. If you are looking for classes that will fulfill requirements for your Major, Concentration, or Minor, contact us to see what is available! You can either call us at 718-951-3192 or stop by our office, 1304 James Hall!

New Websites for Our Program and Center!

The Communications Department at Brooklyn College recently revamped our Children and Youth Studies Program website and also created a website for the Children's Studies Center for Research, Policy and Public Service!

The new url for the Program website is: http://www.brooklyn.cuny.edu/web/academics/schools/socialsciences/interdisciplinary/undergraduate/childrens.php

The url for the new Children's Studies Center website is: <http://www.brooklyn.cuny.edu/web/academics/centers/children.php>

Internship Opportunities

Communications and Marketing Intern, Foreign Policy Association -- The Foreign Policy Association is a non-profit organization dedicated to inspiring the American public to learn more about the world. The FPA is looking for an intern for the Communications department which is responsible for the organization's media relations, message development, publications, advertising and marketing. Interns will gain hands-on experience in non-profit communications work, including an insider's view of professional media relations, as well as increase their professional writing and editing skills and gain knowledge of online and offline marketing and promotion. The ideal candidate will be a communications/marketing or related major with a strong interest in U.S. foreign policy.

This is a six month internship in FPA's New York City headquarters, a modest monthly stipend is available.

Email a cover letter detailing your marketing experience and studies, along with your resume to the Communications Director at info@fpa.org. For more information, visit the internship description.

Intern, Children and Youth Studies (unpaid) -- The Children and Youth Studies program is looking for a Communications and Media Assistant to intern with us! STUDENTS OF ANY MAJOR CAN APPLY! The intern will be responsible for updating the website, maintaining and updating our social media outlets (Facebook, etc.), and will be in charge of drafting a monthly e-newsletter that will be sent to Children and Youth Studies students. The intern must have excellent writing and communication skills, some experience working on website maintenance, and have the ability to learn how to use new computer programs. The intern should be comfortable using Microsoft Office, specifically Microsoft Access. The hours are flexible and can be worked around your course schedule. For more information on the position, view the attached pdf.

If you are interested in interning at the Children and Youth Studies program office, email your resume and cover letter to eliseg@brooklyn.cuny.edu.
