New Children's Studies Center Publication

The Children's Studies Center, with funding from the Carnegie Corporation of New York, has just published the proceedings of the National Consultation's Social Justice for Children: To End Child Abuse and Violence Against Children.

This important 20th Anniversary Conference took place on November 4, 2011 where we brought together policy makers in the international arena and U.S. government with experts in neuroscience, epigenetic research, social science research, and public health communities. These experts shared their research findings about detrimental effects of poor parenting and maltreatment on child well being.

You can read the whole document on our consultation website here. The recordings of these proceedings are also available on our YouTube channel.

Global Lullaby Project

Global Lullaby Project

Through the Children and Youth Studies Global Lullaby Project we are creating a collection of children's songs reflecting the diverse student body at Brooklyn College.

Interested in being part of this amazing project? You are in luck! We are looking for eager volunteers to share their childhood songs and childhood experiences involving music from their ethnic and cultural background.

To participate or to receive more information contact Curtly or Elise or contact the program at 718-951-3192.

IMPORTANT! Children and Youth Studies Survey

In preparation for Fall 2013 registration of classes, the Children and Youth Studies Program has prepared the following survey in order to assist you to complete your degree in a timely manner.

Please complete the survey here and submit at your earliest convenience.

CHST Majors Graduating in Fall 2013 or Education Majors Graduating Spring 2014

If you are a Children and Youth Studies major planning to graduate in Fall 2013 OR an Education major planning to student teach and graduate in Spring 2014, you must make an appointment with the coordinator, Elise Goldberg, to discuss your schedule.

To set up an appointment, email Elise at eliseg@brooklyn.cuny.edu, call us at 718.951.3192 or stop by the office at 1304 James Hall.

CHST 4100: Internship in Applied Children's Studies

The Children and Youth Studies Program will be offering the CHST 4100: Internship in Applied Children's Studies this Fall. Students must have permission from the program director to take the internship course. This course fulfills the requirements toward the Children and Youth Studies Major and Minor or as an elective for all other students.

The internship will greatly benefit a student's entrance into graduate school and entry level positions by providing different career paths that include:

- Arts in Education for Homeless Children and Youth
- Alternative to Incarceration Afterschool Programs
- Attorney for Children
- Child Advocacy
- Children and Disability
- Children and the Media
- Children and Young Adult Publishing
- Child Life Specialist
- Children Protective Services
- Foreign Affairs and International Development
- Guidance Counselor
- Health and Mental Health
- Juvenile Justice
- Public Policy and Analysis
- Research
- Social Work

Students who are interested in taking the course in the Fall semester must make an appointment with an advisor now to begin reviewing possible sites for you to do your internship, what kind of internship you want to do, and to help you to update or to create your resume and cover letter.

To schedule an appointment email Elise Goldberg at eliseg@brooklyn.cuny.edu, call us at 718.951.3192 or stop by the office at 1304 James Hall.
