The Great Debaters

A Film Viewing and Discussion

In conjunction with Black History Month, Brooklyn College is proud to offer a screening of The Great Debaters, the film that tells the story of the history-making Wiley College debating team, of which our own Professor of English Hobart Jarrett was a member. Members of the faculty and the academic community will offer an introduction before the film and will participate in a post-screening panel discussion that will remember Dr. Jarrett and center around the film's historical and social context. A Q & A will follow.
