Battleground States in Presidential Elections

Keena Lipsitz is Assistant Professor of Political Science, Queens College, CUNY. Her main field is American political behavior with a focus on how political campaigns affect voters, but she has broader interests in public opinion, media effects, and democratic political theory as well. She is the co-author of Democracy At Risk: How Political Choices Undermine Political Participation, and What We Can Do About It, and her other publications have appeared in Political Behavior, Political Communication, and Journal of Political Philosophy. She is currently working on a book manuscript that examines how the different types of campaign information environments generated by competitive and non-competitive elections affect voters.
