Twilight Becomes Night

A Film by Virginie-Alvine Perrette

Set in New York City, Twilight Becomes Night reveals the pivotal role of neighborhood stores in our lives and our communities. Local businesses are vanishing at an alarming rate, but trends are not destiny. Through individual commitment and community activism, a neighborhood can save a neighborhood store.

Virginie-Alvine Perrette, a native of New York City, is currently the co-founder of the video production company, 2 Spot Digital (www.2spotdigital.com), a company that creates informational and fundraising videos for nonprofit organizations, academic institutions, and individuals. A graduate of Stanford University and a former lawyer, Perrette now works as director, cinematographer, and editor on videos for 2 Spot Digital and her own documentary projects. Twilight Becomes Night is her first documentary release.
