

ISLAM AND PLURALISM: LESSONS FROM A LOST HERITAGE

WEDNESDAY
APRIL 18,
2018

2-4 P.M.
GOLD ROOM
STUDENT CENTER

Mustafa Akyol is a Turkish writer, journalist, and public speaker. He is a contributing opinion writer for the New York Times, and is the author of two acclaimed books: “Islam Without Extremes: A Muslim Case for Liberty,” and his latest: “The Islamic Jesus: How the King of the Jews became a Prophet of the Muslims.” In addition, he also writes regularly for Turkey’s English newspaper Hurriyet Daily News and the Middle East focused al-Monitor, and makes television appearances on media outlets such as CNN. Currently, he is a Senior Visiting Fellow at Wellesley College.

Brooklyn College

More info at brooklyn.cuny.edu/bcfamily

#BCfamily

WE STAND AGAINST HATE

Enhancing Understanding and Compassion at Brooklyn College