Will Kaufman is professor of American literature and culture at the University of Central Lancashire, Preston, England. His writings on American culture include American Culture in the 1970s (Edinburgh University Press, 2009) and most recently Woody Guthrie: American Radical (University of Illinois Press, 2011). The latter explores the link between Guthrie's progressive politics and his songs, and his lasting influence on American and international protest song movements. A talented folk singer and instrumentalist, Kaufman has performed hundreds of musical presentations on Woody Guthrie's music throughout the Europe and the United States.
