The new CUNY Climate Scholars (CCS) fellowship will provide an opportunity for ten CUNY undergraduates to participate in interdisciplinary education, research, internships, and teaching experiences through the program.

We are specifically recruiting students from Baruch College, Brooklyn College, Bronx Community College, and Hunter College to participate.

The CUNY Climate Scholars fellowship will run via zoom from August 22, 2022 through March 31, 2023. Each CUNY Climate Scholar will earn up to $8,400 for their participation.

Eligibility Requirements:

College undergraduate students with a GPA of at least 3.0. Low income, underrepresented minorities and those eager to learn about climate change and renewable energy innovation are especially encouraged to apply.

Applicants must be able to commit at least 20 hours per week for the full duration of the program. Applicants must be US Citizens, US Residents, or International Students with eligibility for on-campus employment
