

Phil 3703
Political Philosophy
Section MY2 Registration Code 32226
Spring 2018

Prof. Samir Chopra

In this class, we will work our way through some possibly eclectic sources of political theory (literary essays and novels might be included) to tackle topics such as political realism, critiques of political institutions, feminism, racism, the nature of power (political or otherwise), ideology, fascism etc. Several texts will be assigned in their entirety; students should be prepared to read seriously and extensively.