
Phil 3703 Political Philosophy

Section MY12

Class Number 14137

Instructor: Samir Chopra

Email: schopra@brooklyn.cuny.edu

In this class, by way of a close reading of several classical texts of political theory, we will examine many central questions of political philosophy. In particular, the nature and foundations of political power, the sovereign state, political resistance and revolution, conservatism, democracy, constitutional government, civil liberties, inequality, justice, the relationship between politics and law etc.