

Jigsaw Productions looking for Fall 2014 Television Production Intern

We are looking for an eager, committed intern for the summer/fall to join our production team at Jigsaw Productions (Taxi to the Dark Side, Enron: Smartest Guys in the Room, Mea Maxima Culpa, We Steal Secrets: The Story of WikiLeaks, The Armstrong Lie). Looking for a hard-working, detail-oriented person who wants to be part of creating the second season of Death Row Stories.

Company description:

New York City-based Jigsaw Productions is headed by Academy Award-winning director Alex Gibney and produces documentary films and television programs.

This is a rare opportunity to take part in creating a documentary television series for one of the nation's premiere networks. The internship is perfect for anyone interested in documentaries and production/doc filmmaking.

Position available: Production Intern

Production interns will observe and learn from producers on a documentary television show. They will gain research experience, help develop documents, practice proofreading and fact-checking, learn how to make production binders, shadow Associate Producers, Story Producers and Production Assistants, as well as observe the post production schedule and process.

About the Position:

- Position is available immediately
- 2-3 days/week
- Length of internship is 2-3 months
- School credit if applicable
- Daily lunch stipend

Requirements:

- A major or minor in film, television, video, media or journalism is a plus, as is a strong interest in history, politics, business or the arts.
- Strong research and writing skills, experience using Microsoft Office as well as experience using Avid, Final Cut and video cameras are desirable, but not necessary.

Cover Letter:

Please explain why you are interested in this position and why you think you are a strong candidate for it.

Please send resume and cover letter to: DRSInternAd@gmail.com. Only candidates who submit a resume and cover letter will be considered.
