Job Title: Primary Care Nurse Practitioner or Physician Assistant
Job ID: BC6-2015
Location: Brooklyn College Health Clinic (BCHC)
Part-Time: Monday – Thursday; hours are flexible

The Brooklyn College Health Clinic seeks a compassionate and highly-skilled primary care nurse practitioner or physician assistant to join our dedicated, passionate and collegial team. The BCHC is a non-profit outpatient facility serving a non-traditional population of largely underinsured college students.

Duties:
The primary care NP or PA will report to the director of the BCHC and provide the following services:
  a) Evaluation and treatment of acute and chronic conditions.
  b) Patient education concerning diagnoses and treatment options, appropriate preventive measures, and use of the health care system.
  c) Treatment that is consistent with clinical impressions and sensitive to the patient’s financial resources.
  d) Documentation that is appropriate, accurate and complete.
  e) Assessment of real or potential health hazards and current health status, including analysis of health behavior related to environment, lifestyle and culture.
  f) Consultation, referral and collaboration with other disciplines involved in the delivery of total patient care.
  g) Utilization of the resources within the college and surrounding community.
  h) Demonstration of continuing professional growth by involvement in education, and the creation or review of protocols and procedures, and participation in research.
  i) Collaboration with clinic manager, director, and other practitioners on Quality Assurance.
  j) Attendance at BCHC meetings and in-service offerings.

Qualifications:
The nurse practitioner or physician assistant will:
  • Maintain current NYS license and certification.
  • Have, at minimum, 3 years’ experience as a primary care NP or PA in Adult, Family Practice, or Internal Medicine;
  • Be proficient in women’s health.
  • Preferably have prior experience in college health.

Compensation: $60/hour.

This is a per diem, part time student-fee funded position with the possibility of full-time employment.
