

*Brooklyn
College Foundation*
2013-2014

Dear Alumni and Friends,

The trustees and governors of the Brooklyn College Foundation are a very special group of volunteers who are dedicated to the success of the college, its faculty, and especially its students. I am very grateful to my colleagues on the Board for the time, diligence and creative spirit with which they serve.

I am also grateful to President Karen L. Gould and her executive team for their leadership, and for the excellent working relationship that makes it a pleasure to advance our mutual goals of supporting Brooklyn College.

This year's annual report focuses on the ways the foundation, through the generosity of individual donors, has supported the academic excellence of Brooklyn College. We have chosen to illustrate a few special gifts of faculty chairs, highlighting the donors who make them possible, the faculty chair-holders, and the benefits to our students.

Finally, I know I write for all of the trustees who are grateful to the over 6,600 donors who contributed to the foundation in FY14. Your generosity and commitment makes it possible for today's students to benefit from the life-changing opportunities only higher education can provide.

Sincerely,

Edwin H. Cohen '62
Chair, Brooklyn College Foundation

Dear Alumni and Friends of Brooklyn College,

The Brooklyn College Foundation plays a crucial role in providing our students and faculty with support that enriches their academic experience and promotes the college mission.

The work of the foundation advances our longstanding tradition of providing affordable and rigorous education, in a rich learning environment with world-class faculty.

I am deeply appreciative of the work of the trustees of the foundation, their continued devotion to our institution, and the inspired leadership of Ed Cohen in his role as chair of the foundation.

We are also profoundly thankful to our many donors for their continued engagement and support of our campus community.

This year, the annual report highlights the impact our donors have had on fostering academic excellence through the establishment of critical endowed chairs and professorships at the college.

These exceptional faculty members inspire our students, elevate our academic environment, and fulfill a commitment to continuing a legacy of academic excellence at Brooklyn College.

Thank you for your continued support.

Sincerely,

Karen L. Gould
President

The Brooklyn College Foundation

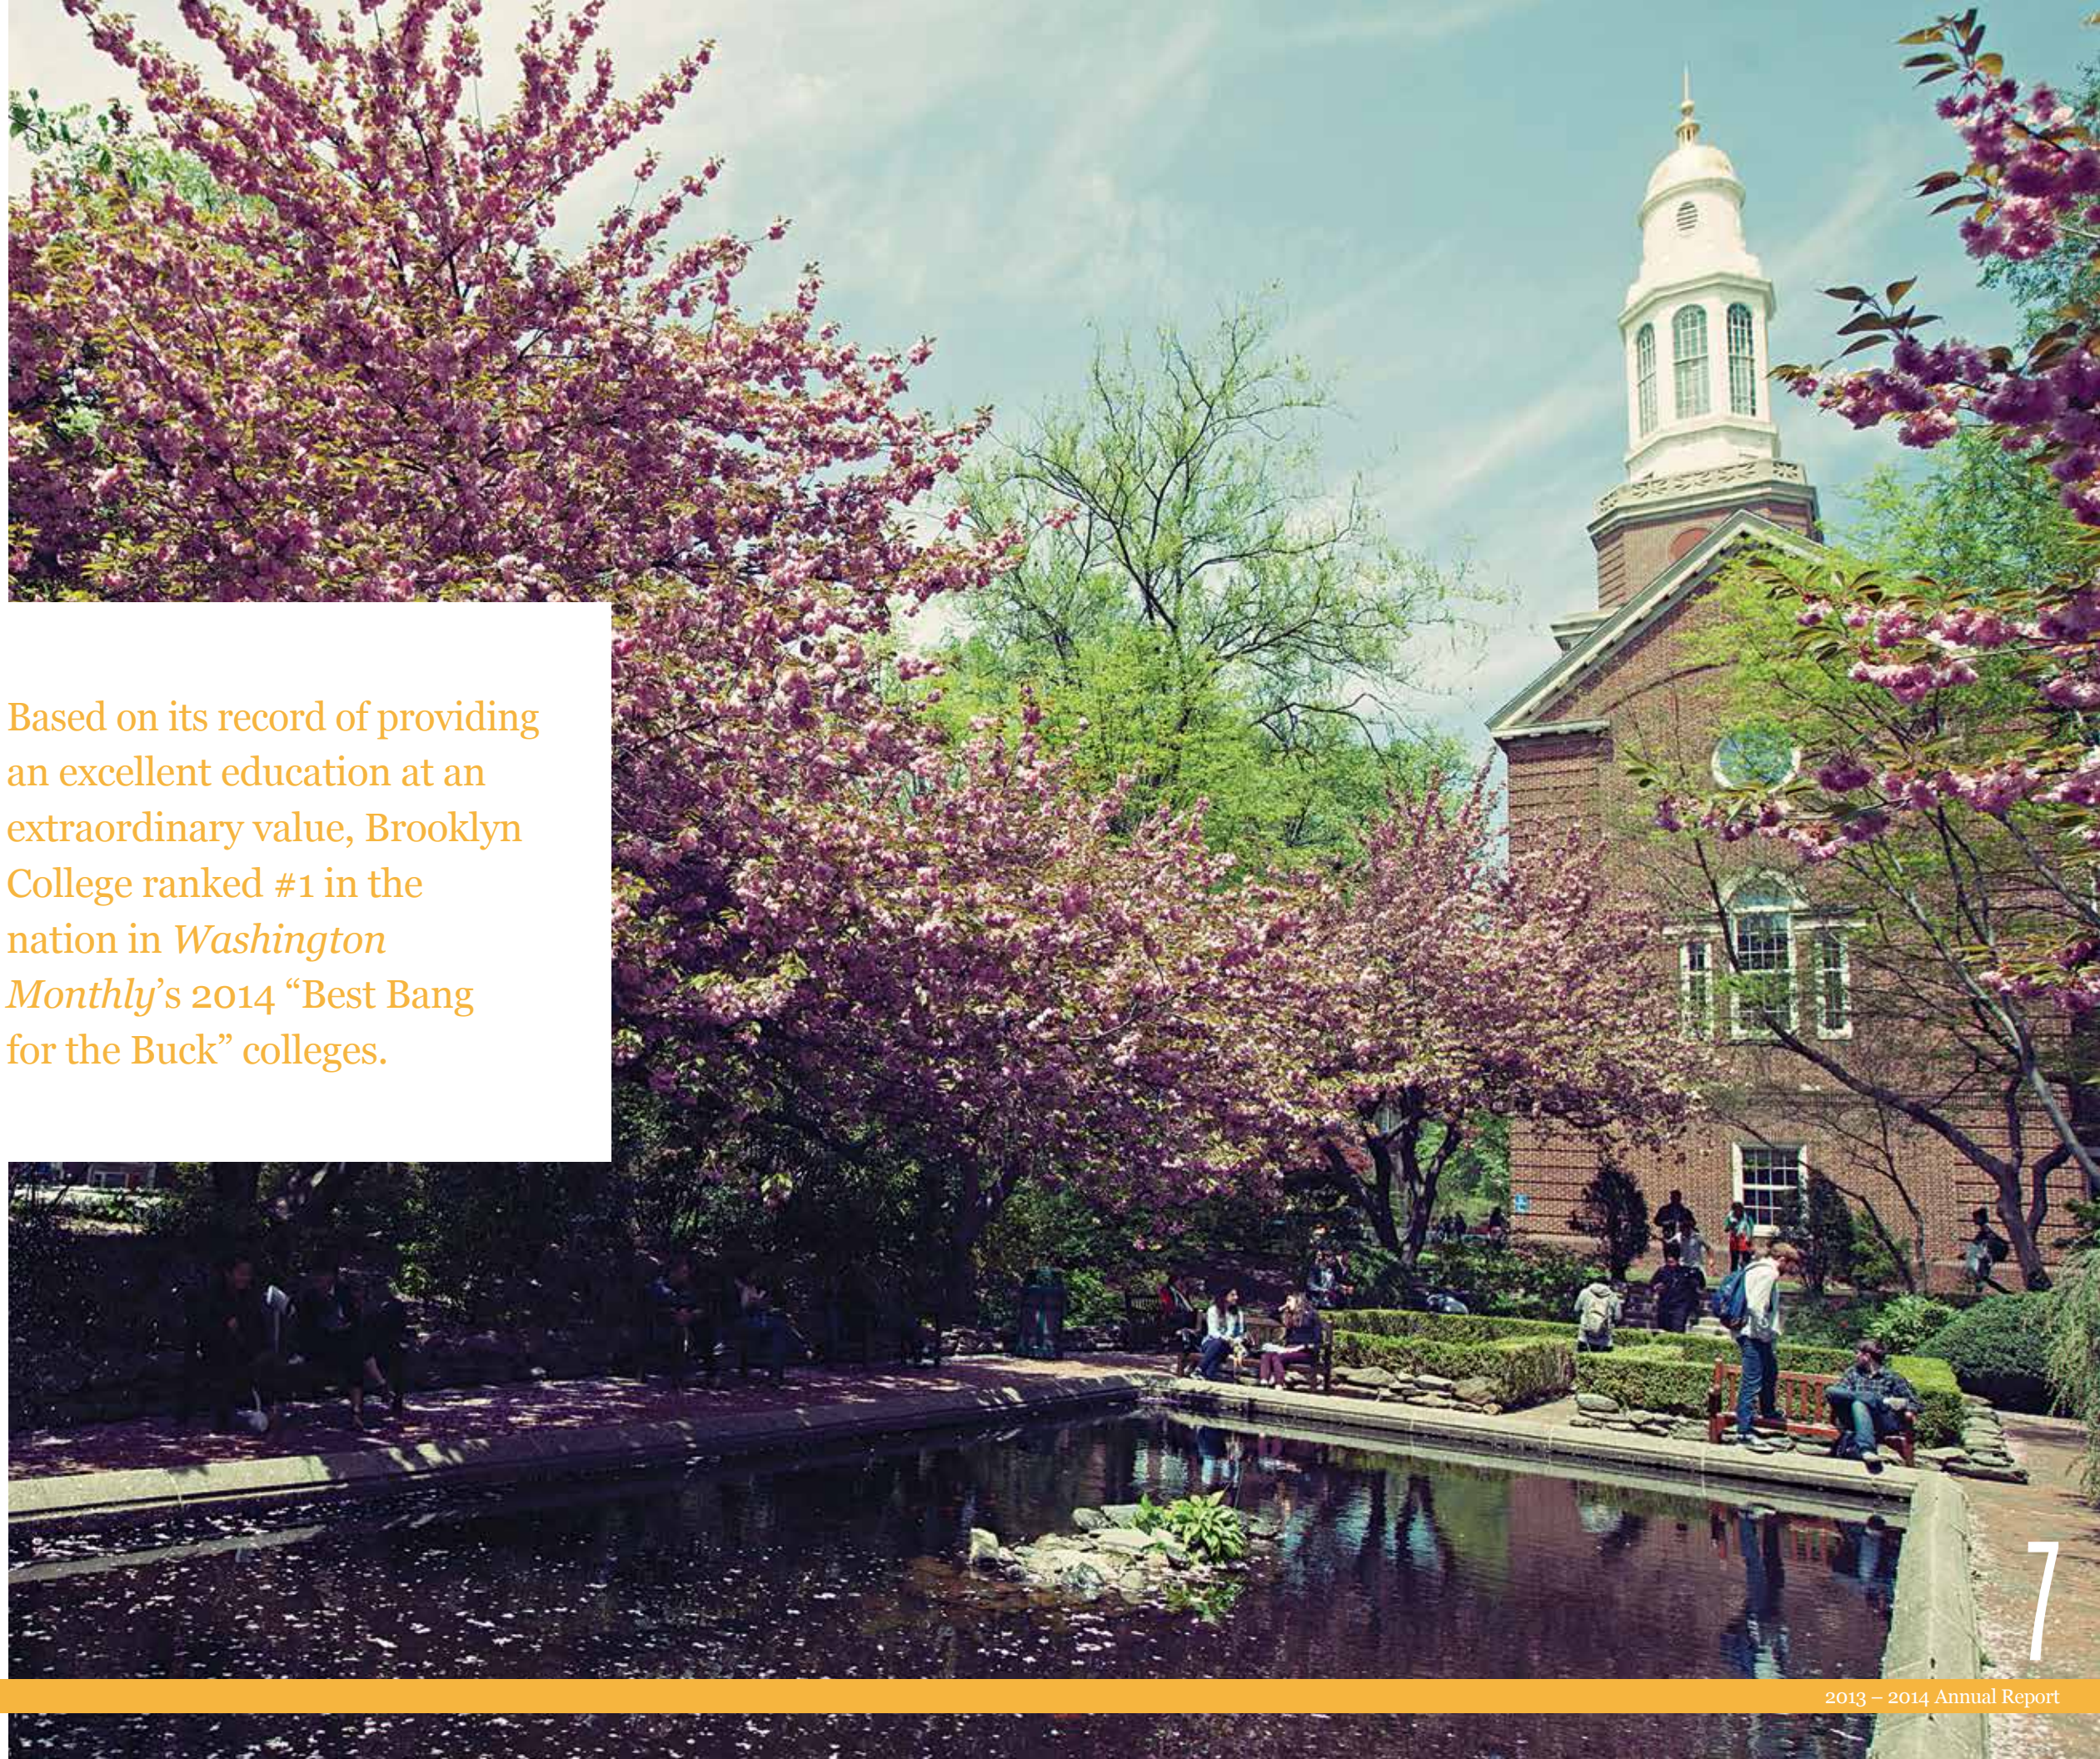

plays an essential role in contributing to the academic vitality of Brooklyn College. This year's foundation report focuses on the many ways donors to the foundation have strengthened the college's academic programs through the establishment of endowed chairs and professorships.

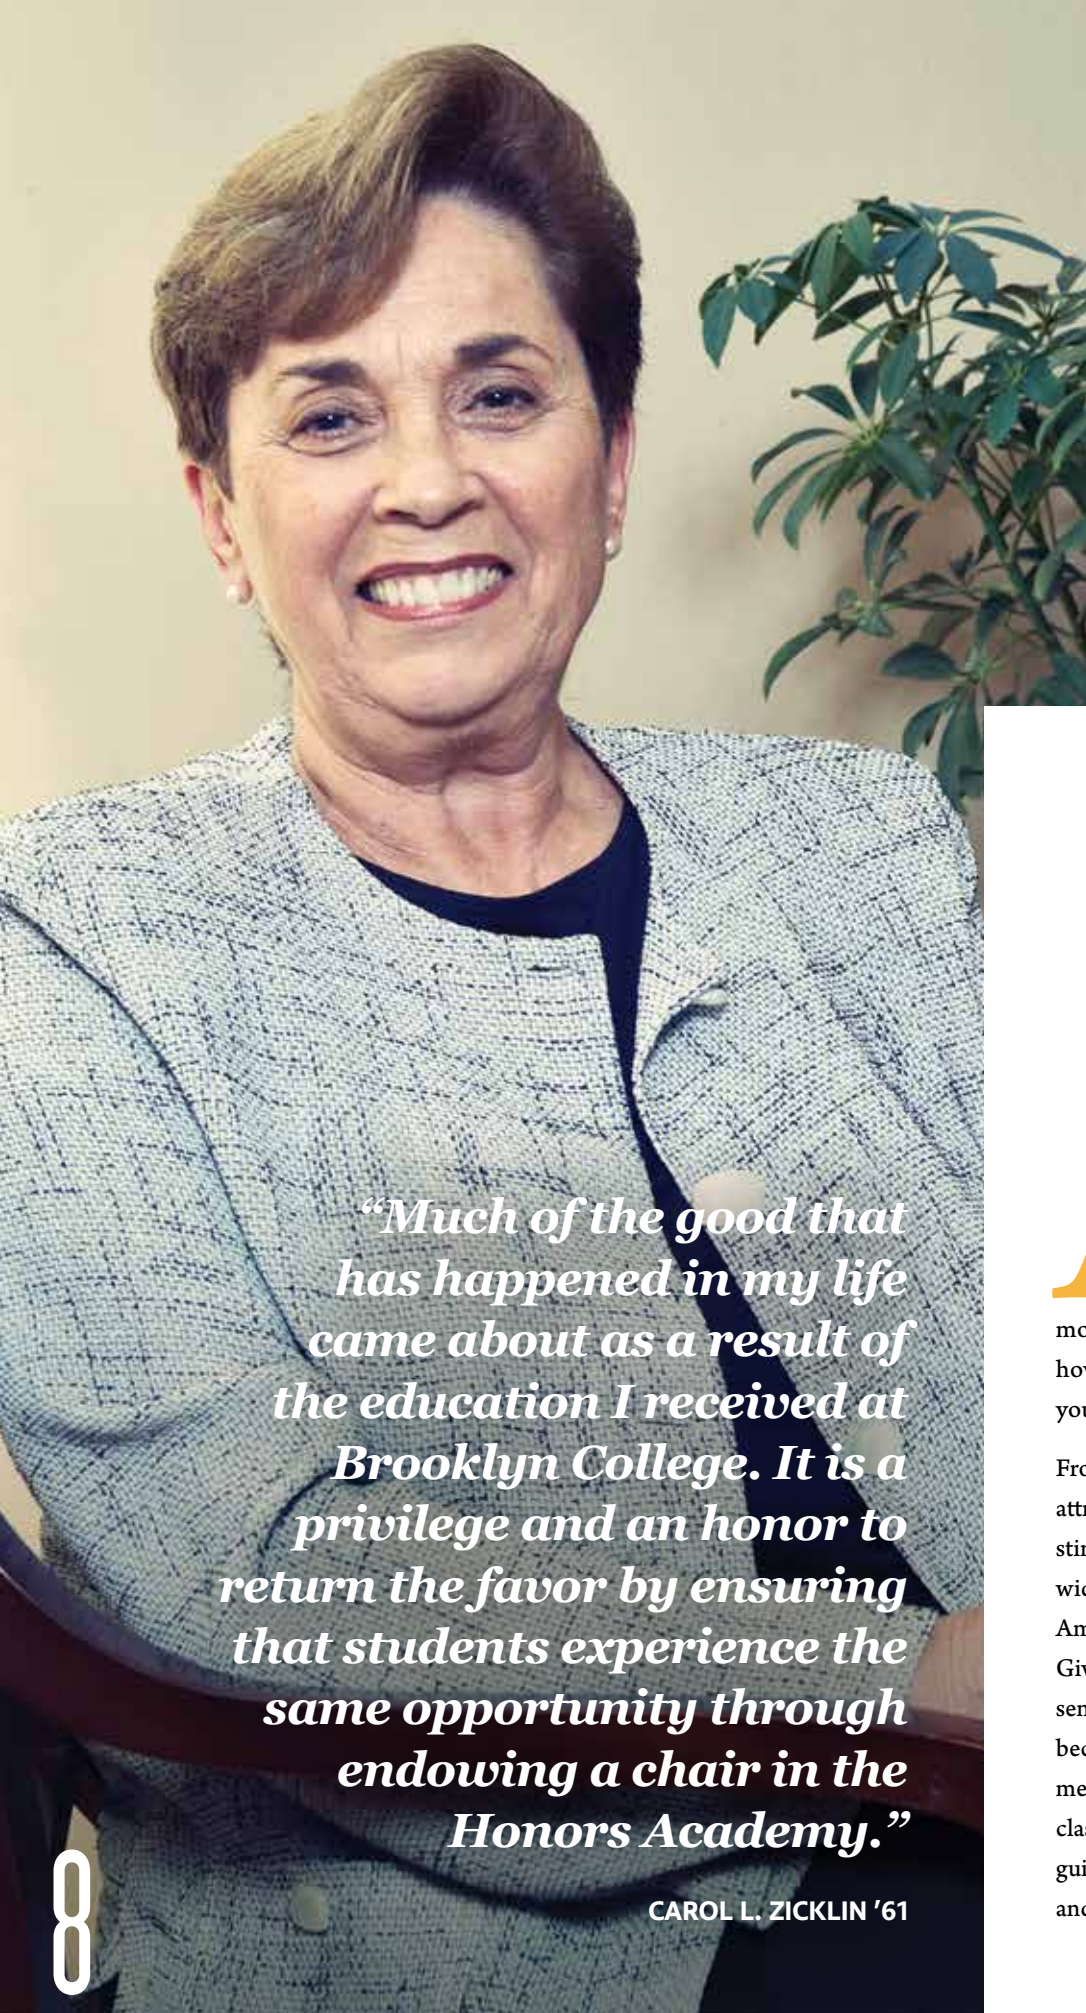

Endowed chairs and professorships are highly prestigious positions that enable Brooklyn College to attract distinguished scholars, teachers and artists. Within the college, the effects proliferate. Named professors and chairs enliven academic dialogue throughout the community. The high level of scholarship they bring may strengthen an established focus area or simply fill a gap. The new ideas their work generates present fresh opportunities for collaboration with other faculty members and colleagues.

Students benefit profoundly. By endowing a professorship or chair, donors provide young scholars with both intellectual and practical opportunities. On a practical level, named chairs can offer students guidance and references for graduate schools or careers. On an academic and artistic level, they can influence young people at a crucial stage of their lives, enriching their future as thinkers, scholars and productive citizens.

Endowing a chair enables donors to contribute to scholarly advancement in an area for which they have an abiding interest or passion; the research their gifts facilitate can speed progress in areas as diverse as bioethics and constitutional rights. Of course, such gifts create a legacy. For many, their years at Brooklyn College were transformative. Endowing a chair completes the cycle, providing donors with the opportunity to give back to the institution whose excellence has inspired their own formidable achievements.

Based on its record of providing an excellent education at an extraordinary value, Brooklyn College ranked #1 in the nation in Washington Monthly's 2014 "Best Bang for the Buck" colleges.

“Much of the good that has happened in my life came about as a result of the education I received at Brooklyn College. It is a privilege and an honor to return the favor by ensuring that students experience the same opportunity through endowing a chair in the Honors Academy.”

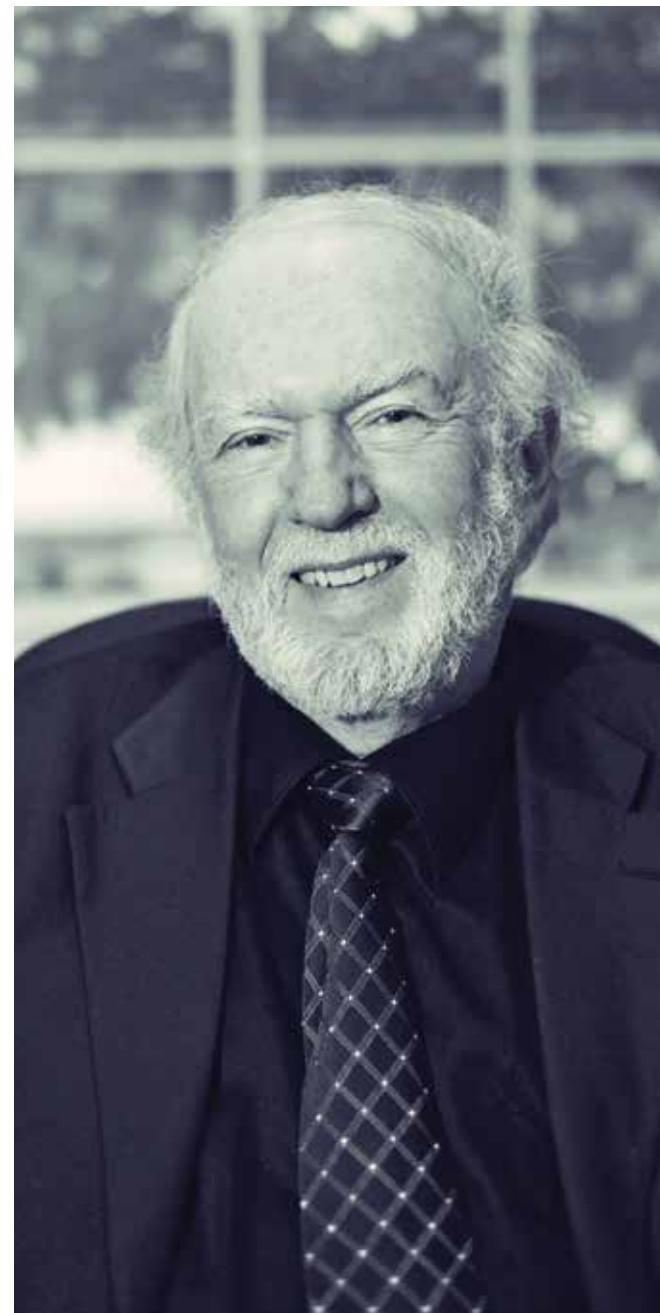

CAROL L. ZICKLIN '61

Carol L. Zicklin '61 Honors Academy Chair

Awarded to a scholar who provides leadership to the Honors Academy at Brooklyn College

A teacher herself throughout most of her career, Carol Zicklin understands how a dedicated teacher can transform young lives.

From its inception, the Zicklin Chair has attracted significant scholars who have stimulated our Honors Academy students' wide breadth of interests, in fields as varied as American history, sociology and mathematics. Given the Academy's small classes and seminars, a succession of Zicklin Chairs have become more than teachers; they've become mentors who help students grow beyond the classroom, offering both academic and career guidance that propels them to excel in graduate and professional studies.

Sheldon Krimsky's achievements include serving as a consultant to the Presidential Commission for the Study of Ethical Problems in Medicine and Biomedical and Behavioral Research. He brought his knowledge of bioethics and technology to his students, many of whom are in our B.A.-M.D. program, and who will face such issues throughout their careers. As a Zicklin Chair, he exposed students to information on vital topics such as stem cell research, genetically modified crops, forensic DNA databases and cyber privacy. He extended to his students the opportunities to attend significant academic lectures and conferences that they otherwise might not have been able to afford.

“Because I had students who really knew how to work, I could set the bar very high. I also promised that no matter where I was, I would remain available to them to provide references and guidance for their future careers. As a Brooklyn College graduate, I was especially gratified to be able to offer this kind of assurance.”

SHELDON KRIMSKY '63

Herbert Kurz '41 Chair in Constitutional Rights

Awarded to an academic legal scholar or practitioner in the field of constitutional rights and civil liberties. Housed in the Political Science Department, the chair was inspired by Herbert Kurz's longtime concern that the civil liberties enshrined in the Constitution and the Bill of Rights remain at the forefront of American democracy

Anna O. Law, the author of The Immigration Battle in American Courts (Cambridge University Press, 2010) and a former consultant to the Senate Judiciary Committee, Department of Homeland Security and the National Science Foundation, brings a scholar's understanding of the complex ways in which politics, legal principles and the judicial system interact. Dr. Law recently launched the innovative Kurz Undergraduate Research Assistant Program, in which students receive a stipend to participate in research.

"Thanks to the Kurz Chair, I have the distinct pleasure each year of putting together public programming that is topical and that resonates with students. The Research Assistant Program allows students to become not just consumers of information but actually involved in producing it."

ANNA O. LAW

For most of his life, Herbert Kurz was a champion for the cause of civil liberties and constitutional rights. Attending college at a time when civil liberties were under attack and the First Amendment seemed in peril — the first House Un-American Activities Committee had just convened in 1938 — Kurz developed an abiding commitment to the legal and ethical rights of all citizens. After serving as a navigator aboard B-26 bombers during World War II, for which he was decorated, he launched the successful Presidential Life Insurance Company, practicing affirmative action years before that term was coined.

His endowment of the Herbert Kurz '41 Chair in Constitutional Rights is consistent with a life devoted to justice. In the two years since its inception, the chair has brought to the campus experts on such timely civil liberties topics as school desegregation and the New York City Police Department's stop-and-frisk policy.

The Brooklyn College community was saddened by the death of Herb Kurz in November 2014, but through his generosity to the college, his passion for civil liberties lives on.

"Very few colleges have a chair in constitutional rights, and I'm proud that Brooklyn College will be one of the leaders."

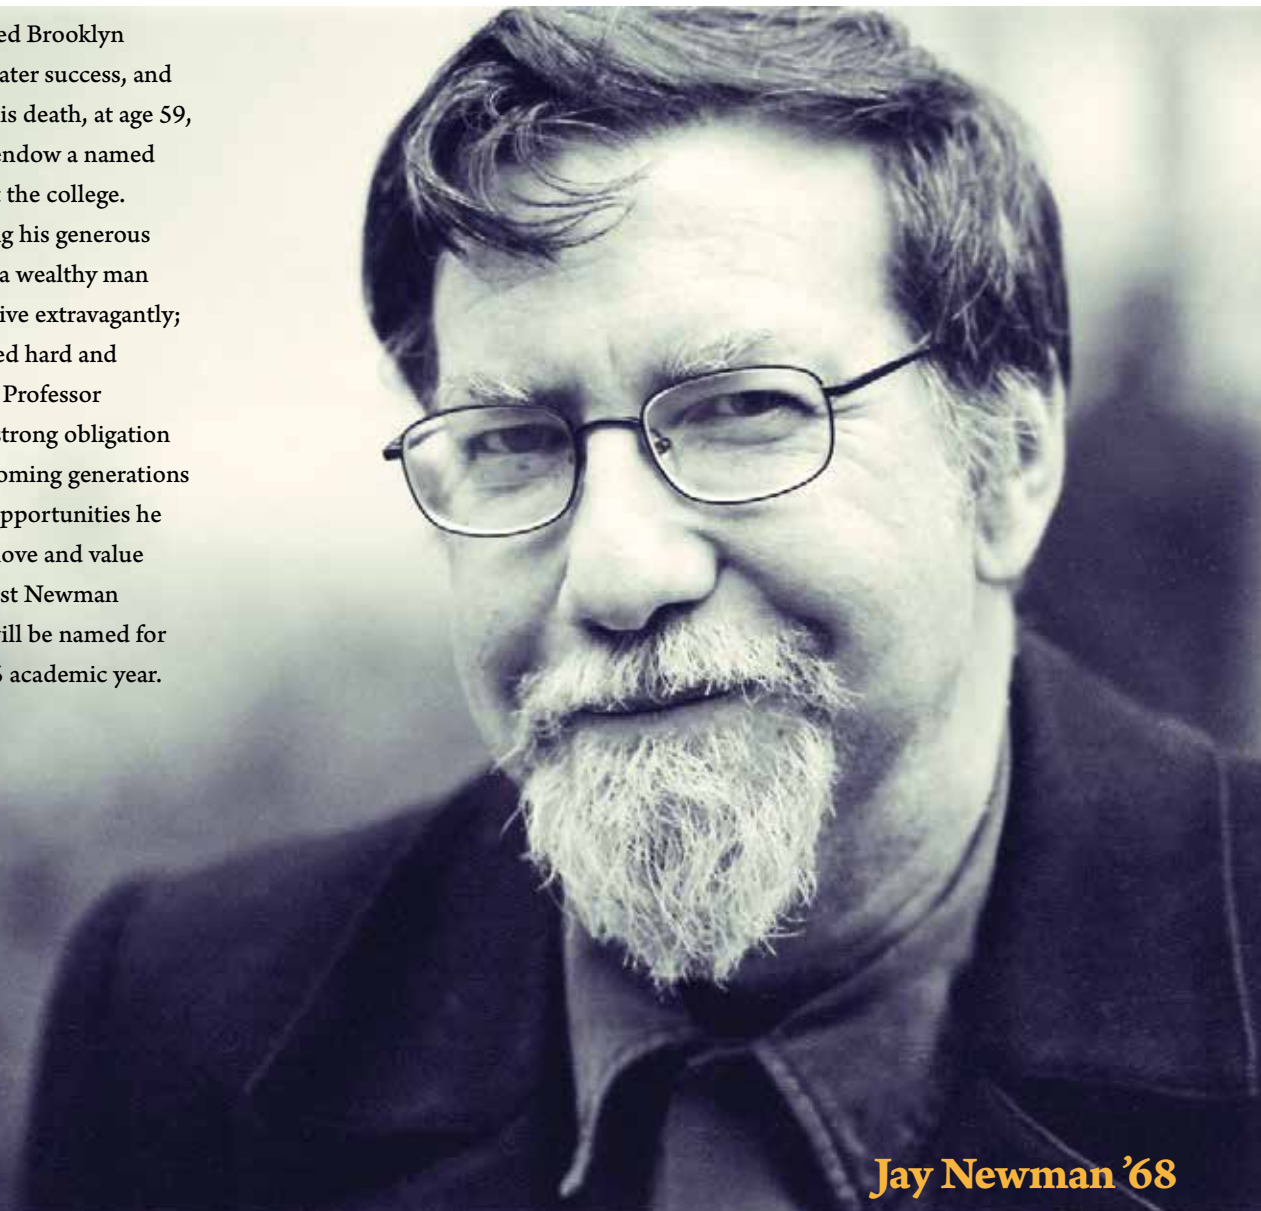

HERBERT KURZ '41

Jay Newman devoted his career as a professor at the University of Guelph in Ontario to the study of the philosophy of culture. As a teacher, he was beloved; as a scholar, he pondered the philosophy of religion and the ethical questions raised by mass communication. Philosophy, he believed, should not be confined to esoteric theory, but should illuminate everyday life and concern itself with broader issues of culture.

“Jay Newman was a man of great warmth, above all. He was also a dedicated scholar, a brilliant teacher and a person of overwhelming integrity. Sometimes a star flashes through the heavens and impresses and humbles us all. Jay was such a star.”

MICHAEL RUSE
DEPARTMENT OF PHILOSOPHY CHAIR,
UNIVERSITY OF GUELPH, ONTARIO

Newman credited Brooklyn College for his later success, and shortly before his death, at age 59, he arranged to endow a named professorship at the college. Notwithstanding his generous gift, he was not a wealthy man and he did not live extravagantly; he simply worked hard and invested wisely. Professor Newman felt a strong obligation to ensure that coming generations have the same opportunities he experienced to love and value learning. The first Newman Professorship will be named for the 2014 – 2015 academic year.

Jay Newman '68

Jay Newman '68 Professorship of Philosophy of Culture

Awarded to academic scholars in the field of philosophy and culture

“We hope that the Newman Chair will help us reach out to traditionally overlooked audiences and show them that philosophy is relevant to their experiences and interests. The chair will also give us the opportunity to encourage all our students to discover and reflect upon cultural differences. Finally, we hope that our new colleague will help us forge new alliances and exchanges with other programs in the School of Humanities and Social Sciences as well as other schools in the college.”

Daniel M. Lyons '39 Visiting Professorship in American History

Awarded to faculty of distinction whose work demonstrates a commitment to the values embodied in the United States Constitution and who has a proven ability to communicate and transmit these values to students

The premium on scholarship and teaching that underlies Dan Lyons's gift is epitomized by the verve and accomplishment that Brendan O'Malley brings to the Daniel M. Lyons '39 Visiting Professorship in American History.

A specialist in American immigration, politics and urban history, he co-edited Home Fronts: A Wartime America Reader (New Press, 2008) with Michael S. Foley and served as a researcher and editorial consultant on Senator Edward M. Kennedy's memoir, True Compass, and David Nasaw's Andrew Carnegie.

His in-depth understanding of the American immigration experience amplifies O'Malley's appreciation of his students, many of whom represent the ongoing relevance of his academic research.

"Viewing history through the lens of citizenship is something that really speaks to my students, many of whom are in the process of becoming American citizens themselves, or who have parents or acquaintances going through the process. It really brings history alive for them."

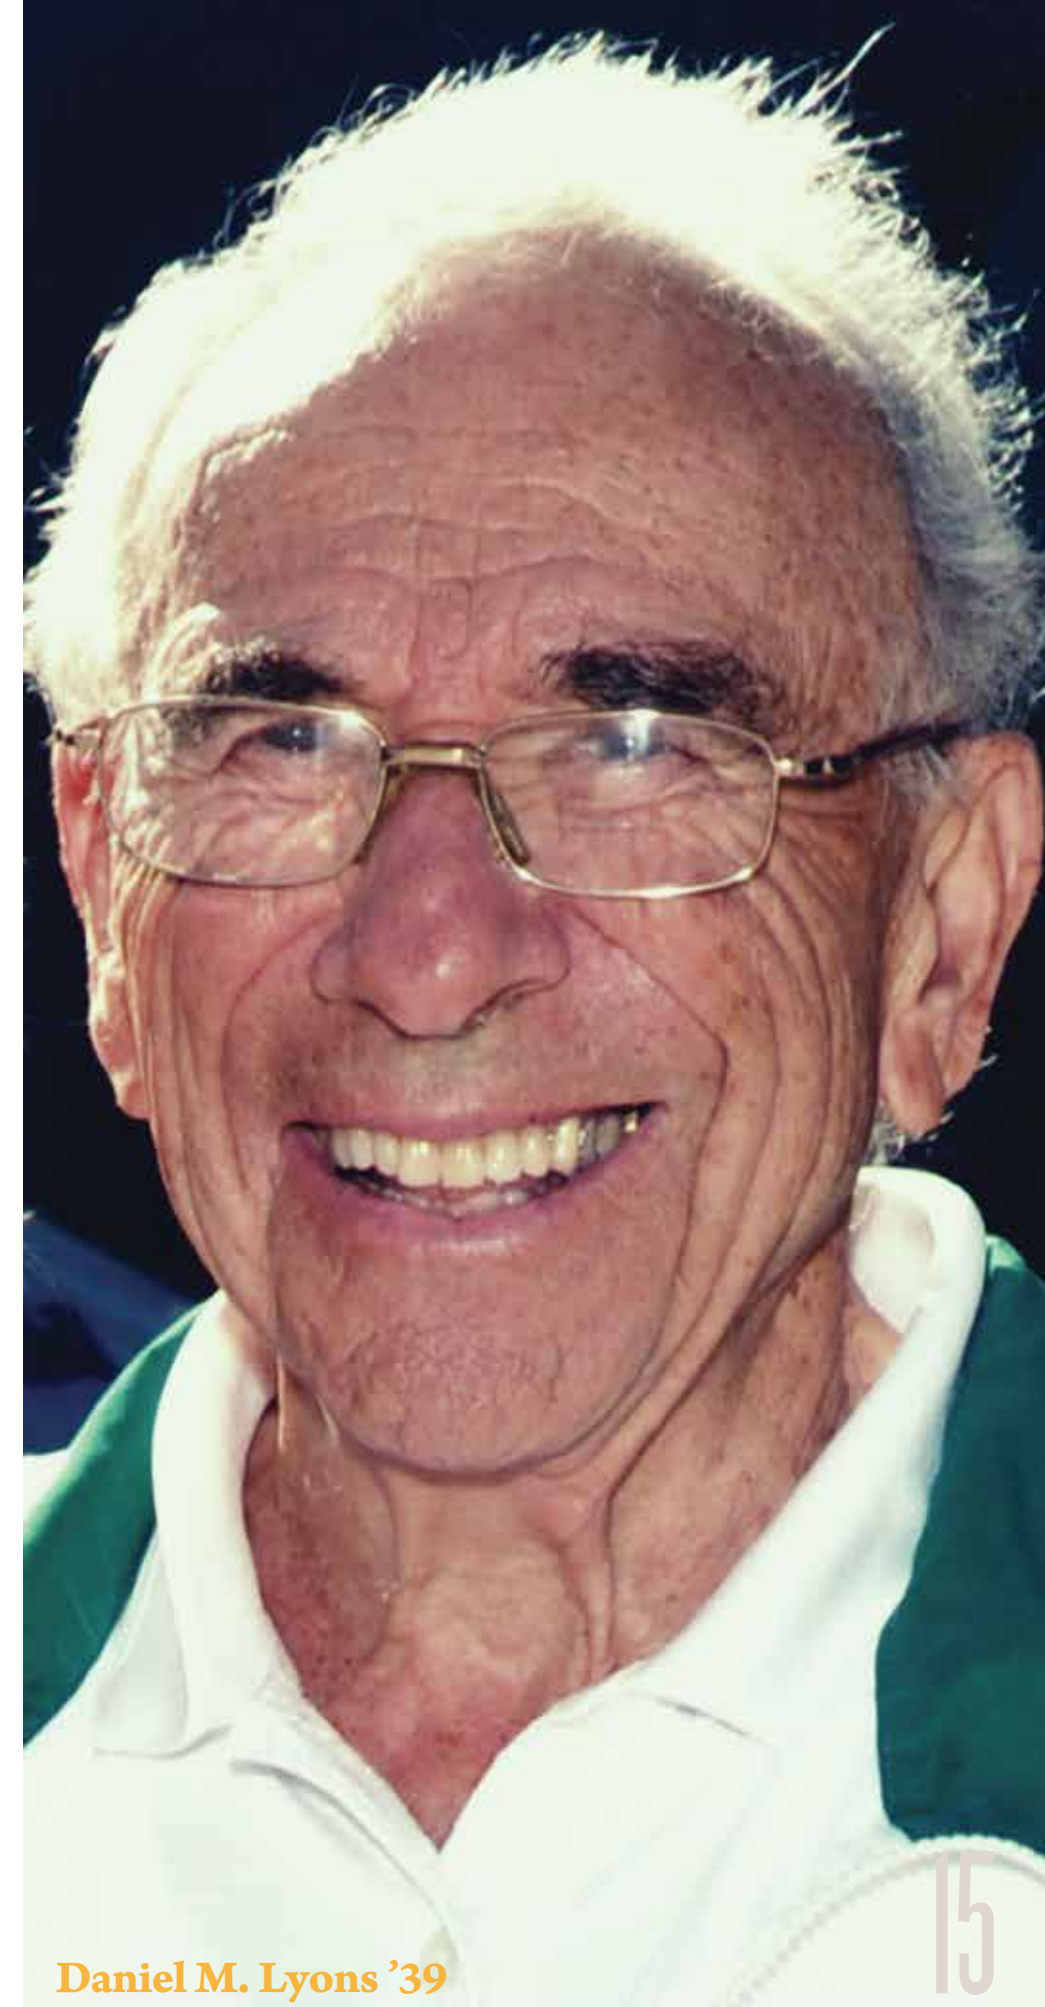

BRENDAN O'MALLEY

Like many Brooklyn College students, Daniel M. Lyons (1919–2011) was a son of immigrants whose life embodied the American dream. As a young man, he attended Brooklyn College at night. After graduating, he worked in Washington, D.C., for the U.S. Department of Agriculture and then for the State Department. Eventually, he founded a successful real estate company.

His affection for his college and country only deepened over time. His work abroad for the State Department reinforced his belief in the importance of inculcating a thorough understanding of American history and values. To that end, his establishment of the Daniel M. Lyons '39 Visiting Professorship was a way for him to transmit to current and future students our country's founding principles. His wife, Bente Lyons, said his gift allowed him to express his gratitude for the good life his college and country enabled him to achieve.

"Daniel appreciated his Brooklyn College education; more to the point, he loved Brooklyn College... he adored it. He said it gave him exactly what he needed to succeed in business and in life."

Madelon Rand '64

Madelon Leventhal Rand's name elicits phrases like "she was inspired and passionate" and "her devotion to her students was extraordinary." As a student, Rand was inspired by a professor who bred in her a lifelong passion for Shakespeare, which she then passed along to her students. Using centuries-old literature, she drew out the life experiences of the young Russian, African-American, Asian, and Middle Eastern students who populated her classes. In 2012, at a Brooklyn College gala, her husband, Larry, announced that he was establishing the Madelon Leventhal Rand '64 Chair in English Literature; Madelon, who was suffering from ALS, was surprised, overwhelmed, and deeply appreciative that her living legacy would include the education of future generations of Brooklyn College students. Several years after her death, her gift continues to fulfill her mission: to impart knowledge to students that will nourish them all their lives.

"On the drive home from Brooklyn to Westchester [after the establishment of the chair was announced], she said, 'That is the most amazing thing that has ever happened to me. How did you know what I wanted?'"

LAWRENCE RAND

The Madelon Leventhal Rand '64 Chair in Literature

Awarded to a scholar or practitioner in the field of literature

In her three years as the Rand Chair in Literature, Marjorie Welish has enriched the Brooklyn College community with her knowledge of poetry, criticism and art. The recipient of a 2014 Guggenheim Fellowship and an award-winning poet, she has strengthened the graduate school curriculum with her distinctly innovative and interdisciplinary courses for 19th-century English literature and the contested sites of knowledge we call modernity. She brings this and more to her advanced workshops in poetry.

"More than an honor, the Rand Chair has given me the authority and the latitude to teach creatively. Inspiring students entails teaching rigorous matter with high expectations — you'd be surprised how often students fulfill their potential when we aim high."

MARJORIE WELISH

Thank You

Donors to the Brooklyn College Foundation

The trustees of the Brooklyn College Foundation gratefully acknowledge the following donors whose gifts, made between July 1, 2013, and June 30, 2014, enabled the foundation to finance scholarships, internships, travel-abroad stipends, research fellowships, professorships and other special projects that elevate the academic experience for all students.

“The Belle Zeller Professorship was a great honor for me as a journalist. Those of us who focus on social justice issues and write for alternative media don’t always get much recognition. Best of all, I love the students here at Brooklyn College. They come from all over the world, work very hard and are diverse in every imaginable way; their discussions are rich and I learn so much from them. I hope this job won’t be my last opportunity to be part of this exciting community.”

“The Levy-Kominsky Professorship has supported my ongoing collaboration with a Dutch chemical engineering group at the University of Delft. The work involves model-guided development of a novel approach to the extraction of metals from water, with potential applications for wastewater purification and precious metals recovery.”

After several years of intense planning and successful fundraising, the Barry R. Feirstein Graduate School of Cinema is open for business and accepting applications. During this year, all of the groundwork is being laid to make possible an exciting inaugural term in September 2015: the final site build-out, purchase of equipment, and critical faculty hires.

The school's website, www.brooklyn.cuny.edu/feirstein, is up and running and an advisory council of distinguished artists and industry insiders has been selected. Its members include directors Steven Soderbergh and Darren Aronofsky, actor Ethan Hawke, executive producer Celia Costas and cinematographer Maryse Alberti.

In these and other ways, the school is breaking entirely new ground. The first public graduate film school in New York, it is also the only graduate school in the country that will actually be located on a working film lot, a situation that Brooklyn College President Karen L. Gould says will create "fabulous opportunities for students to exchange ideas and information with people about what is taking place directly on the lot."

These and other assets will serve to create what its founders envisioned: a leading 21st-century cinema school, excellent and affordable, that is a pipeline of new and diverse talent to the industry.

To that end, the Brooklyn College Foundation and the college continue to add to the $29 million that has already been raised from public and private sources, among them Barry R. Feirstein, whose $6 million gift provided the original seed money for the school, as well as alumni Don Buchwald '59, Roy Furman '60, Michael Lynne '61, Ilene '62 and Stanley Gold, and Jules Haimovitz '71. Generous contributions were also made by the New York State Senate, the New York City Mayor's Office of Media and Entertainment, the New York City Council and the Office of the Brooklyn Borough President. To date the foundation has raised more than $2.6 million to provide student scholarships.

In his letter to prospective students, Jonathan Wacks, acclaimed film director and founding director of the new school, writes: "From the moment you arrive here you will be immersed in filmmaking in a facility that is second to none. Built from the ground up to meet the demands of 21st-century production and post-production, we offer a state-of-the-art facility outfitted with the most up-to-date digital equipment and technology. But tools do not make art; ideas and imagination do."

Come September, as the school itself materializes, the first class of students will turn their ideas and imagination into stories we can all share.

Magner Career Center 10th Anniversary

From its founding in 2004, the Magner Career Center has served as a vital resource for preparing our students for their future careers. An integral part of the center's success is the involvement of more than 900 individual alumni, who act as mentors and participants in panel discussions and career events. They have also provided valuable internships that allow our students to build their résumés even before they graduate.

"Being a first-generation college student, I did not have the support of those in my immediate family to prepare me for life after graduation. The Magner Career Center, and its dedicated staff, has gone above and beyond — for me and many of the others it serves — to make sure that Brooklyn College students have the necessary tools needed to make a difference in this world. I am forever indebted to the years of service its staff has provided to me."

Gladstone Edwards '15

Award-winning actress Ellen Burstyn with Best of Brooklyn honoree Paul Mazursky '51, director, screenwriter, producer, and actor.

Award-winning actress Marsha Mason shares memories of working with honoree Paul Mazursky '51.

2014 Best of Brooklyn Gala

The Walter Reade Theater at Lincoln Center was the scene for a very special gala on May 6, honoring Paul Mazursky '51, the Oscar-nominated director of such legendary films as An Unmarried Woman, Down and Out in Beverly Hills, and Harry and Tonto. The gala gave the Brooklyn College community an opportunity to celebrate Mazursky and a lifetime of achievement before his passing in June.

Thank you for answering our call! Student callers reach out to Brooklyn College alumni from the Ingersoll Hall call center to raise money in support of the foundation's annual fund. In 2013-2014, the student phonathon raised over $200,000 in pledges from our alumni.

Commemorative Brick Plaza

Seen daily by students, faculty members and visitors, the custom-engraved bricks at the entrance of the West Quad Center, the newest building on campus, offer alumni and friends a novel way to honor loved ones, celebrate an event or simply enshrine one's thoughts for future generations. Proceeds support the foundation's vital annual fund. With gratitude, we recognize the following friends who purchased commemorative bricks between July 1, 2013, and June 30, 2014.

Class of 1964 50th Reunion Gift

Brooklyn College is a stately tribute to President Franklin D. Roosevelt's vision in creating the Works Progress Administration (WPA). The WPA enabled more than 8 million unemployed men and women to find meaningful work during the Great Depression through participation in a wide range of federally funded building projects and commissions to create paintings, murals, theater productions and books. Over 2,000 jobs were created in constructing our Midwood campus, including the library's mural, The Famous Libraries of the World by Olindo Mario Ricci. Just as integral to the college's history is the library's collection of 30 paintings by WPA artists, 13 of which have suffered severe damage over the years. Through the generosity of the Class of 1964, a fund has been created to restore the paintings, which will become part of a permanent exhibit on the WPA that is proposed for the gallery space in the new Leonard & Claire Tow Center for the Performing Arts.

Board Committees

Executive Committee

The executive committee comprises all officers and committee chairs, and the president of Brooklyn College. The executive committee has all the powers of the board when the board is not in session. The executive committee considers key recommendations from the board committees listed below and sets the agenda for the full board meeting.

Audit and Finance Committee

Mark Steiger '89, Chair

The audit and finance committee selects and works with the foundation's auditors, currently Loeb & Troper, to ensure that the foundation continues to meet nationally accepted auditing standards. In addition to reviewing the annual financial statements and budget, the committee examines employee policies and procedures to ensure foundation compliance with state and federal regulations and CUNY best practices.

Investment Committee

Martin Sass '63, Chair

The investment committee is charged with prudently building the foundation's endowment fund to secure the long-term future of Brooklyn College. Committee members are responsible for the development and periodic review of the fund's investment policies and guidelines, and for asset allocation to various investment strategies to achieve appropriate diversification of the fund's investments based on its needs and objectives. The committee selects, meets with and manages a variety of outside professional investment managers in consultation with an outside adviser and monitoring firm.

Development Committee

Marge Wagner '69, Chair

The development committee provides oversight of the fundraising activities of the foundation, including monitoring the staffing and goal-setting of the development office. Members provide critical advice on alumni research, cultivation, solicitation and stewardship.

Governance and Nominating Committee

Myron Kandel '52, Chair

The governance and nominating committee is charged with ensuring best-practice governance of the foundation and continued development of the foundation's board of trustees. Responsibilities include directing research for prospective board members and providing recommendations for new board candidates, officers of the foundation and for honorary governors.

Planned Giving Committee

Sam E. Beller '59 and Stella Lagudis '82, Co-Chairs

The planned giving committee provides guidance and technical expertise on planned gifts in the form of bequests, charitable gift annuities, charitable remainder trusts, life insurance, gifts of stock or real estate to the Brooklyn College Foundation.

How You Can Support Brooklyn College

The Brooklyn College Foundation relies on the generosity of individuals, foundations, and corporations to help further the college's mission of providing high-quality, affordable education to our students. There are many ways that donors can support our work.

The Annual Fund

Gifts to the annual fund provide critical unrestricted operating support making it possible for the foundation to respond to the immediate and evolving needs of Brooklyn College. Annual fund donations are used to support scholarships, internship stipends and travel abroad, funding for faculty research, as well as school improvements. Unrestricted annual fund gifts are essential and benefit more than 17,500 students each year.

The Boylan Society

The Boylan Society is the Brooklyn College Foundation's monthly giving program. When you join the Boylan Society, you authorize the foundation to receive a monthly tax-deductible gift from your checking account or by credit card. This is a wonderful opportunity to provide dependable, enduring and reliable support to your alma mater. You will no longer need to be concerned with renewal payments or reminder mailings. And since automatic monthly gifts do not require outreach efforts to secure, they are the most efficient way to sustain the level of academic excellence at Brooklyn College.

Corporations and Foundations

The Brooklyn College Foundation works with faculty and college leadership to identify, build and steward relationships with corporations and foundations to ensure long-term and mutually beneficial partnerships. We aim to understand the needs of corporations and foundations and connect them with appropriate solutions at Brooklyn College. With a world-class faculty, a diverse and talented student body and strong academic and co-curricular programs, Brooklyn College offers significant investment opportunities.

Establishing a Restricted Fund

A restricted fund helps to meet the needs of Brooklyn College and our students while reflecting the specific interests or desires of a donor. Restricted funds may support student scholarships, awards and travel stipends, as well as faculty research and endowed professorships. Establishing and naming a restricted fund can be a special way to honor or memorialize a loved one's interests or accomplishments, honor a former student and/or faculty member or encourage students in a particular academic area. The Brooklyn College Foundation welcomes donations to establish and name new restricted funds, as well as donations of any size in support of already existing restricted funds.

Gifts Online

It is now easier than ever to make a donation to Brooklyn College. Just log on to the Brooklyn College Foundation website, www.brooklyncollegefoundation.org, and use our secure connection to make a tax-deductible gift with your credit or debit card with a MasterCard, American Express, Visa or Discover logo. We also accept automatic fund transfers from your checking or savings account.

The Legacy Society: Planned Gifts

Members of the Legacy Society share our vision of academic excellence for future generations by making a provision for the college in their estate planning. The Brooklyn College Foundation offers several future-oriented investment opportunities, including charitable gift annuities, charitable remainder trusts or life insurance. Legacy Society members may also make planned gifts in the form of a bequest.

Contact Us

To learn more about how you can support the mission of Brooklyn College, please contact us by phone at 718.951.5074, by fax at 718.951.4248, by e-mail at giving@brooklyn.cuny.edu, or write to us at Brooklyn College Foundation, 2900 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn, NY 11210-2889. You can also visit us at www.brooklyncollegefoundation.org.

Matching Gifts: Double the Impact of Your Donation

If your company matches employee contributions to higher education, you may be able to seek a match for your gift to the Brooklyn College Foundation. In order to find out if your company provides matching gifts, please visit our online matching gift search engine on the donate page of the foundation's website for further instructions or check with www.brooklyncollegefoundation.org. Your human resources office can provide specific instructions about how to seek a company matching gift.

Naming Opportunities

Brooklyn College offers a wide spectrum of naming opportunities. Individuals or groups of donors may select from a menu of naming options ranging from commemorative bricks in front of our new West Quad Center, to benches near our beloved lily pond, to classrooms or lecture halls around campus. These are very special opportunities to leave behind a legacy at the college while contributing to the success of future Brooklyn College students.

Tributes and Memorials

The Brooklyn College Foundation Tribute and Memorial Program was created in response to alumni requests as a means to offer special recognition to those who have made a difference in their lives. A donation to the Tribute and Memorial Program gives you the opportunity to honor a loved one, friend, business associate or caregiver. Gifts have been made to commemorate special occasions, including birthdays, anniversaries or retirement. The program is a meaningful way to express feelings of remembrance or gratitude.
