Your generous contributions to the Brooklyn College Foundation ensure that Brooklyn College students have affordable access to excellent higher education. As you will see in the following pages, your gifts provide critical support to more than 1,400 students and faculty each year through student scholarships, internships, and study abroad stipends, as well as funding for faculty research and endowed professorships. The Brooklyn College Foundation is pleased to acknowledge all donors whose gifts empower Brooklyn College students to achieve success.

Nearly 58% of Brooklyn College students come from households earning $50,000 or less annually. With an estimated annual tuition of $6,030, over 56% of our students rely on some form of financial aid, and nearly 50% must work in order to support costs related to tuition and school. Donations in support of scholarships, awards, and prizes are critical in providing our deserving students with affordable access to excellent higher education. The following pages highlight various scholarships, awards, and prizes established through generous contributions to the Brooklyn College Foundation.

The Brooklyn College Foundation Presidential Scholarship program offers entering Brooklyn College freshman with outstanding records $4,000 annually toward the cost of tuition for up to four years of undergraduate study. Recipients are selected based on merit demonstrated by SAT scores and high school performance. In order to be considered, a student generally must have a combined score of at least 1,200 on the SAT and a 90 percent high school average. Brooklyn College Foundation Presidential Scholarships are made possible by unrestricted contributions to the foundation's annual fund.

“With every day that passes by, I am one day closer to achieving a goal and living a dream that I have had ever since I could remember. I am studying to earn a Bachelor of Science degree in biology, while taking pre-med classes. This scholarship has allowed me to focus on the path of becoming a physician, and to one day help countless numbers of people to be healthy, and in turn, be happy.”

—Samantha Vouyiouklis

Shortly before Ruth Turim '58 passed away, she and her youngest daughter, Linda Krasner, joked about what they would do if they won the lottery. "I would set up a fund at Brooklyn College—if I had a lot of money, that's what I would do," her daughter quoted Turim as saying. "My mother's eyes filled with tears as she spoke," Krasner said. "Brooklyn College meant that much to her."

As an honors student at Eastern District High School in Brooklyn, Turim dreamed of attending Brooklyn College. She was admitted during the height of the Depression, but could not afford to attend. Instead she went to work, married, and started a family.

Her oldest daughter, Frances, entered Brooklyn College in 1952. During her second year, Frances presented the bursar with her mother's original letter of admission, which her mother had treasured for some 20 years, and asked if the college would honor it. The college did.

In 1958, Turim graduated on the dean's list with a B.A. in education. She began teaching immediately after graduation, starting a distinguished 18-year career in education. She also earned a master's degree in elementary education from the college.

Turim lived to the age of 99, and within days of her passing her family set up a fund in her memory. The Ruth Turim '58 Award is given annually to a student, preferably female, who demonstrates academic promise and who needs the support to complete her education. Casey Denaro was named the award's inaugural recipient during the Fall 2014 semester.

“Since I was very young, I have wanted to be a physician. As a lifelong Brooklyn resident, I chose to attend Brooklyn College because of its stated philosophy of broad learning experiences in the social sciences, humanities, and sciences. I am convinced Brooklyn College provides me the foundation that will enable me to best serve patients, positively impact my community, and improve healthcare delivery. I hope to one day walk in the footsteps of Drs. Henry and Henrietta Rosenberg.” —Edward J. Colombo, recipient of the Dr. Henry Rosenberg and Dr. Henrietta Kotlus Rosenberg, MD Scholarship

"I am an international student from the South American country of Guyana, and I consider receiving the STARR Foundation Scholarship as one of the greatest achievements of my life. My ambition is to become a software engineer, and a computer science degree is the first step toward achieving this goal. In Guyana, the local currency exchange rate is approximately USD $1 to GYD $200. Thus, the total monetary amount of this scholarship equates to about a fifth of my family's annual income. I am so happy and grateful that I was considered for this generous award. My family will now be able to focus on my younger brother's education."

"This award comes at a particularly good moment as I am the main breadwinner for my family. My aim in returning to school was to make a more secure future for us through doing what I love to do, teach and make art. When I graduate, I look forward to joining the ranks of our alumni as a teacher of high school- or college-age artists. The award from the Brooklyn College Foundation General Scholarships Fund is assisting me in attaining this goal."

David Sive '43 and Storm King Mountain, the Hudson River landmark that he was instrumental in saving from becoming home to a massive power plant

David Sive '43, who died in March of 2014, was an idealist and an environmentalist. While only a sophomore, he wrote an elegant letter to The New York Times, complaining that the newspaper's outdoors column was all about tips for hunting and fishing, and never about "a breathtaking climb above the timberline; of a glorious night spent among fragrant balsam; of a wonderful canoe trip through the wilds of Ontario; of an adventurous night camping out at 30 below." As he grew older, Sive's youthful idealism did not fade, and as an attorney, through a series of landmark legal victories, he pioneered a way of using legal means to prevent the despoiling of nature. Sive is known as the "Father of Environmental Law," and Sive Paget Reisel, the firm he founded in 1962, is the leader in environmental law practice in the United States. As the first in his family to graduate college, he keenly appreciated the challenges—financial and otherwise—of first generation college students. In 2013, David and Mary Sive set up the David Sive '43 Award for first generation college students. The award helps pay for tuition and supplies for science students who maintain a G.P.A. of 3.2 or higher, who qualify for financial aid, and who take summer courses at the college. David Sive credited his Brooklyn College education as the foundation for everything that came after. With this generous gift to the Brooklyn College Foundation, his family makes it easier for others to follow his shining example.

Student Internships

Over the years, the importance of internships has increased. Not only do students with internship experience receive, on average, a 20% higher starting salary, but internships are also directly linked to hiring and corporate recruitment. Despite the growing importance of internships, 50% of internships are unpaid. This means that many Brooklyn College students simply cannot afford to participate in these internships without a stipend. To address this issue, many alumni and friends have made restricted donations to the Brooklyn College Foundation to finance stipends for students participating in low-paying or non-paying internships. The following internship funds enable deserving Brooklyn College students to attain critical work experience that will leverage their education and lay the groundwork for future employment and success:

"It took me a very long time to find the academic and professional path that I wanted to take. When I started college I felt completely lost. So I decided to take a break from academics. I started a family during the time I was not in school. I have gone back, and I am now an earth science major exploring our world and everything in it. Everything about this major makes me happy. Studying rock and mineral samples in the laboratories, collecting fossils in the field, mapping GIS coordinates—all awaken my curiosity. The Marge Magner Internship Stipend allowed me to go into the field with top tier paleontologists and geologists, to work with them side by side, and to experience firsthand something that others only dream of doing. Most importantly, this gives me hope that after my journey and its many trials I can truly become someone and be successful."

—Anastasia Danilova, recipient of the Magner Center Internship

Study Abroad and Research Fellowships

Incorporating study abroad and research experiences into a college education helps students earn credit toward their degree, strengthen their professional résumé, improve their foreign language skills, and broaden their perspectives on the world. Faculty who pursue research and scholarship overseas bring these experiences back to the classroom. In an effort to expand and deepen international educational and research opportunities for those in financial need, our generous alumni and friends have established study abroad and research fellowships. These funds provide Brooklyn College students and faculty with the necessary support to study and perform research outside of Brooklyn College and, in many cases, abroad:

I was born in the United States, and I grew up in Cairo, Egypt. Incorporating international experiences into my future plans is very important to me. I am traveling to Istanbul, Turkey, to study freedom of the press and intern with the news organization The Daily Sabah. This award will assist me in costs that I will incur spending 10 weeks abroad. With the generous financial support of the Christoph M. Kimmich Fund, I can pursue my studies, career, and passions more courageously."

How You Can Support Brooklyn College

The Brooklyn College Foundation relies on the generosity of individuals, foundations, and corporations to help further the college's mission of providing high-quality, affordable education to our students. There are many ways that donors can support our work.

The Annual Fund

Gifts to the annual fund provide critical unrestricted operating supports making it possible for the foundation to respond to the immediate and evolving needs of Brooklyn College. Common uses of annual fund dollars include student scholarships, internship stipends and travel abroad support, funding for faculty research, as well as school improvements. Unrestricted annual fund gifts are essential and benefit more than 16,000 students each year.

The Boylan Society

The Boylan Society is the Brooklyn College Foundation's monthly giving program. When you join the Boylan Society, you authorize the foundation to receive a monthly tax-deductible gift from your checking account or by credit card. This is a wonderful opportunity to provide dependable, enduring, and reliable support to your alma mater. You will no longer need to be concerned with renewal payments or reminder mailings. And since automatic monthly gifts do not require outreach efforts to secure, they are the most efficient way to sustain the level of academic excellence at Brooklyn College.

Corporations and Foundations

The Brooklyn College Foundation works with faculty and college leadership to identify, build, and steward relationships with corporations and foundations to ensure long-term and mutually beneficial partnerships. We aim to understand the needs of corporations and foundations and connect them with appropriate solutions at Brooklyn College. With a world-class faculty, a diverse and talented student body, and strong academic and co-curricular programs, Brooklyn College offers significant investment opportunities.

Establishing a Restricted Fund

A restricted fund helps to meet the needs of Brooklyn College and our students while reflecting the specific interests or desires of a donor. Restricted funds may support student scholarships and awards, and travel stipends, as well as faculty research and endowed professorships. Establishing and naming a restricted fund can be a special way to honor or memorialize a loved one's interests or accomplishments, honor a former student and/or faculty member, or encourage students in a particular academic area. The Brooklyn College Foundation welcomes donations to establish and name new restricted funds, as well as donations of any size in support of already existing restricted funds.

Gifts Online

It is now easier than ever to make a donation to Brooklyn College. Just log on to the Brooklyn College Foundation website, www.brooklyncollegefoundation.org, and use our secure connection to make a tax-deductible gift with your credit or debit card with a MasterCard, American Express, Visa, or Discover logo. We also accept automatic fund transfers from your checking or savings account.

The Legacy Society: Planned Gifts

Members of the Legacy Society share our vision of academic excellence for future generations by making a provision for the college in their estate planning. The Brooklyn College Foundation offers several future-oriented investment opportunities, including charitable gift annuities, charitable remainder trusts or life insurance. Legacy Society members may also make planned gifts in the form of a bequest.

Matching Gifts: Double the Impact of Your Donation

If your company matches employee contributions to higher education, you may be able to seek a match for your gift to the Brooklyn College Foundation. In order to find out if your company provides matching gifts please visit our online matching gift search engine on the donate page of the foundations website for further instructions or check with www.brooklyncollegefoundation.org. Your human resources office can provide specific instructions about how to seek a company matching gift.

Naming Opportunities

Brooklyn College offers a wide spectrum of naming opportunities. Individuals or groups of donors may select from a menu of naming options ranging from commemorative bricks in front of our new West Quad Center, to benches near our beloved lily pond, to classrooms or lecture halls around campus. These are very special opportunities to leave behind a legacy at the college while contributing to the success of future Brooklyn College students.

Tributes and Memorials

The Brooklyn College Foundation Tribute and Memorial Program was created in response to alumni requests as a means to offer special recognition to those who have made a difference in their lives. A donation to the Tribute and Memorial Program gives you the opportunity to honor a loved one, friend, business associate or caregiver. Gifts have been made to commemorate special occasions, including birthdays, anniversaries or retirement. The program is a meaningful way to express feelings of remembrance or gratitude.
