

The Brooklyn College Common Reader Project and

The 1619
Project

Faculty Panel Discussion October 28 at 7 p.m.

Brooklyn College Professors Engage The 1619 Project

Our first event, open to the entire campus, is on October 28 at 7 p.m.

Moderated by Martha Nadell, English Department

The Panelists are:

Colleen Bradley-Sanders, Brooklyn College Library Archivist: “What’s Not in the Archives: Documenting African American History”

Gunja SenGupta, History Department: “Slavery and Empire: The Long Shadow of 1619”

Peter Lipke, Chair, Biology Department: “The Legacy of 1619 at Brooklyn College and My 40 Years of Trying to Diversify Science”

Benjamin L. Carp, History Department: “Slavery and Freedom in 1619 and 1776: Tough Questions about American Origins”

Co-Sponsored by the Department of English, the Department of History, the Wolfe Institute, the Office of Diversity and Equity Programs and We Stand Against Hate.

Register in advance for this meeting

<https://brooklyncollege.zoom.us/meeting/register/tJ0rcuqurzwoE9xSRHW70oh0fCM0oKdfboLw>

After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the meeting.