A Message from Monique:

Dear Students,

We hope that you are doing well with your mid-terms and as the number of quizzes or papers that you need to work on increase. Please remember that if you begin to feel overwhelmed you can always reach out to us. We are here to help. We can also help to figure out problems like forgetting to go to your TAG appointment or struggling with a class or paper.

I recently watched a video on how to study which talked about what to do if you fail a mid term as was as some very good tips on the way to study so that you retain the knowledge that is most useful to you in your classes. It also talks about how to take effective notes. Its worth watching the whole series and trying to practice some of the suggestions made.

For your November engagement please join us for the Exploring Holiday Traditions potluck on November 21st. For those of you who are still undecided about your major or career, please sign up for the Magner Career Exploring Majors and Careers Luncheon ASAP. We'd really like you to meet with us earlier in November and December as the office will be closed for the holidays in late December and early January. We had fun in our October workshops on Scholarship and Professional Etiquette. We hope to see you soon. Don't forget that you can stop by for coffee, tea and a snack anytime between 10- 4 M- F !

Take Care,

Monique Ngozi Nri

Understanding Library & Catalog Systems:

Brooklyn Colleges' library houses over 1.8 million books and over 400,000 e-books with a wide array of material ranging from archives & special collections, music, movies, juvenile collections, and more! The library guide allows students to access information on a variety of subjects as well as research different topics. It can be accessed through: <https://libguides.brooklyn.cuny.edu/c.php?g=436098&p=2973029>

Books can be borrowed for 4 weeks with up to 3 renewals. Course reserved books— texts and related materials to your class— can be borrowed for up to 2 hours. Visit the Media Center located on the 2nd floor for laptop and iPad rentals!

Did you know that students and staff can reserve a private study room? There are study rooms located on each floor, and are also accessible for students with disabilities. Study rooms can be reserved for 2 hours at the circulation desk located on the 1st floor.

If you're looking for a seriously quiet place to get your studies going, visit the Library Science Reading Room located on the 4th floor, or the Christoph M. Kimmich Reading Room on the 2nd floor. Studying with a few friends or worried about disturbing others? The LaGuardia room located on the 2nd floor is perfect for group study. If your preference falls between the two, try studying on the Lower Level. The Library Computer Lab is open 24 hours a day for studying.

The Library Online Orientation Program explains everything you need to know about the Brooklyn College Library. It can be accessed through: <https://libguides.brooklyn.cuny.edu/loop/home>
